WOMEN HOLD MOTORBUS GARAGE; FLEE WITH $2880

Drive Into People's Station in Wellston in Auto, Hammer Way Into Cashier's Cage.

EMPLOYEES FORCED TO LIE ON FLOOR

Worker Escapes Unharmed, Gives Alarm and Fires on Highwaymen as They Drive Away.

A car in a certain touring entered the garage of the People's Motorbus Co. in Wellston today, held up eight employees, sledge-hammered a way through the cashier's steel cage, took cash and rode away, under fire from a bus employee and a Deputy Sheriff, whose shots they returned.

The garage, at St. Charles road and Union avenue, is used by the Union and Florissant lines. The car, a 1924 Buick, was driven by a man who, when the driver fled, the robbers pointed revolvers at five mechanics who were working about the car. Two remained to tend the mechanics as they lay on the floor. Two more took up the night foreman and assistant foreman.

A fifth robber carried a sledge with him, and dashed down the street, firing at the cashier's steel door. Clarence, the cashier, who was finishing up his work within, had already made up rolls of coin. All the robber swept into waste, which he carried back to the machine, followed by his companion.

One Employee Overlooked.

There was one man in the garage whom the robbers had not seen. He was Tom Ray, whose job it was to lubricate the buses. He was under a bus when the robbers entered their first "hide up." Instead of coming and lying on the floor with the mechanics, he hid under the next automobile, and when the robbers came out, he began firing.

Robinson, who was heard by Deputy Sheriff, Robinson of the distance away, Robinson ran and when he saw that shots were coming from the car, he was holding his revolver at R. Ray of the time, Robinson and Robinson, emptying their revolvers, seven or eight shots, came away, and one bullet tore Robinson's coat.

Sledge Left Behind.

Robinson's car, which was undergoing repairs, could not be used in the pursuit, and the deputy followed the robbers' car on foot until it was empty.

The sledge, which was left behind, was taken in charge by the sheriff, to examine it for fingerprints. A telephone instrument, which the garage wall by one of the robbers, also was to be examined.

The bus company refused to pay the amount of loss, but the company on which the loss was placed would not exceed $2500, and that the estimate of the loss, made by employees, probably correct.

Man Held Up on Way to Bank and Robbed of $270.

Tim Sheahan, bookkeeper for the Langhorne Dry Goods Co., Middle street, was held up by a young man and robbed of a package containing $270 in cash and $23 in checks when waiting at 12:40 p. m. today.

Sheahan, who is 36 years old and resides at 1421 Marquette, had just stepped from the northwest corner to the National Bank of Commerce when a robber blocked his path. A revolver muzzle against his chest and demanded, "Stick up and don't say anything."

Sheahan released the package and fled. The man ran west in street and escaped. A motorist, who lost sight of him at the south street.

COOLIDGE COMMUTES TERM OF CONVICTED DRY AGENT

Neufeld Jones, former Assistant Georgia Administrator, and Brother Given Freedom.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—President Coolidge has commuted the sentences of Neufeld Jones and Winfield Jones, serving sentences in Atlanta penitentiary on prohibition violation charges.

The brothers were convicted in Baltimore and each was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. Neufeld Jones formerly was Assistant Federal Prohibition Director for Georgia. They entered the prison last June.

Their conviction was based on the misuse of Centaur alcohol owned by the Maryland Drug and Chemical Co., of which they were officers. Efforts to obtain clemency for them have been in progress almost since they began serving their sentences.

AVIATORS UNABLE TO REACH SNOWED IN COLORADO TOWNS

High Winds Close Air Lanes to Silverton and Eureka, Isolated Three Weeks

By the Associated Press.

DENVER, Colo., March 7.—Mining communities in the San Juan basin of southwestern Colorado today were isolated by the worst snow blockade in 20 years. With highways and railroads to Silverton and Eureka blocked for more than three weeks, high winds yesterday swept through five passes on the continental divide, closing the air lanes to aviators trying to carry medical supplies to the blockaded towns.

Capt. F. N. Shumaker and Lieut. E. W. Goss took off in an attempt to cross the divide. They tried five passes without success. In Medano Pass they estimated the wind velocity at 120 miles an hour and the temperature was more than 20 degrees below zero.

Telephone communication with Silverton was maintained with difficulty. It was reported there that sufficient food was on hand.

FRANCIS ESTATE WORTH $3,159,276 INVENTORY SHOWS

Value of Holdings Thought Much Greater, However, Since Stocks Are Listed at Par Value.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, March 7.—Disgusted with a 2-year family feud over administration of the $20,000,000 estate of Hugo Stinnes, the industrial magnate's eldest son, Dr. Edmund Stinnes, plans to leave Germany and build up a new fortune either in the United States or South America.

He is suing in a Berlin court for divorce from Frau Margaret Stinnes on the ground of estrangement caused by his long absence investigating business possibilities in America last year. A substantial settlement upon the wife is reported to have been agreed upon. Under German law their two girls, being under six, would remain with the mother.

NO REAL ESTATE FIGURES INCLUDED

Papers Show $61.80 Cash in Bank and One $5000 Insurance Policy, Others Having Been Collected.

A valuation of $3,159,276.26 is placed on the estate of David Rowland Francis, former Governor and former Ambassador to Russia. In the inventory, filed today at Clayton, Gov. Francis died on Jan. 15 and his will left the bulk of his estate to his six sons.

The wide diversification of Gov. Francis' business interests appear in the list of his holdings of stocks, which, at par valuations, total $1,952,238. Because of excess of market value over par value, much of this stock, the actual value is much larger than the inventory shows.

Thirteen realty and building concerns, in which his interests ranged from $500 to nearly $200,000; six banks and trust companies, in which the par value holdings were from $5000 to more than $125,000; three railroads, with large holdings in two; two manufacturing firms, two mercantile concerns, one cold storage firm and four mining and fuel companies appear in the list. The only public utility investment appearing is a subscription to the new Public Service Co., the United Railways reorganization company.

$61.80 Cash in Bank.

Only $61.80 cash was to Gov. Francis' credit in bank, and the remaining $15,469.81 of the cash item in the inventory was money due from Francis Bro. & Co. Household goods and silverware at the latest residence, 6464 Ellenwood avenue, were placed at $22,731.65; accounts, $79,881.17; insurance, $5000; goods and chattels, $26,456.39; cash, $15,531.41; interest in partnership, $392,522.41.

No Real Estate Listed.

No real estate was listed in the inventory, which is declared to be a full and complete listing of both real and personal property. Gov. Francis' large realty holdings were largely through corporations, the stock of which appears in the inventory. Other holdings, such as his home and farm property, appear to have been disposed of by deed.

The list of stocks, with the value estimated at par figures, includes: 25 Shares of Southern preferred, 1000 shares, $100,000. Merchants' Laclede National Bank, 1267 shares, $126,700. Mississippi Valley Trust Co., 809 shares, $80,900. Consolidated Investment Co., 1267 shares, $126,700. Same, 708 shares, $70,800. D. R. F. Investment Co., 800 shares, $80,000. Francis Investment Co., 600 shares, $60,000. Globe-Democrat Publishing Co. pfd., 100 shares, $10,000. J. Kennard & Sons Carpet Co., 117 shares, $11,700. Market Street Real Estate Co., 175 shares, $17,500. 25 Shares of Mercantile Trust, 1000 shares, $100,000. Mercantile Trust Co., 75 shares, $7,500. Commerce Trust Co. of Kansas City, 60 shares, $6000. Drexler Real Estate Co., 250 shares, $25,000. Eleventh Street Realty Co., 260 shares, $26,000. 25 Shares of Mercantile Trust, 1000 shares, $100,000. Standard Refrigerator Co., 271 shares, no par value, and no valuation stated. FOUR MEN DIE IN ELECTRIC CHAIR FOR KILLING ONE

They Were Convicted of Killing Philadelphia Policeman After an Attempted Holdup.

By the Associated Press.

ROCKVIEW, Pa., March 7.—Four men, convicted of killing a policeman in an attempted holdup in Philadelphia last May, were executed in the electric chair in the Western State Penitentiary today. They were Joseph Curry, 29 years old; Harry Bentley, 23; William Juliano, 27, and Franc Doris, 27, all of Philadelphia.

The men went to their death in the order named, the first being led to the chair at 7 a. m. and the last man was pronounced dead at 7:32.

Curry, as he left his cell for the death chamber, called out "good-bye" to the other convicts, and his farewell. Beyond this, none of the four had anything to say, and went to their death without breaking down.

In a last interview with their counsel on Saturday, Bentley, Juliano and Doris, but not Curry, asked to name the other two. Their statement will be turned over to Overnack's counsel and the New Jersey authorities.

The crime for which the four men paid the penalty was the killing of a policeman, who attempted to hold up William A. Miller, a messenger for the Olney Bank and Trust Co. Miller had $80,000 in an automobile and was protected by a policeman. In the fight that followed the robbers managed to get the money and as they were about to drive away their motor car engine was disabled by a pistol shot from a policeman. Leaving the money behind, the robbers commandeered a passing milk wagon and were followed by a policeman. The robbers were captured.

Policeman Harry M. Cooper, off duty and in his home, heard the firing, kissed his wife and five months' old baby, ran from the house and joined the search. He jumped on a truck and in the pursuit was shot and killed.

There were five in the robbery, but only four men were captured.

CENTRAL JAPAN ROCKED BY QUAKE IN THREE CITIES

Tokio, Osaka and Kobe Are Shaken, but Damage Is Thought Slight, Though Reports Vary.

By the Associated Press.

TOKIO, March 7.—Central Japan was shaken by an earthquake this evening which caused considerable alarm in Tokio, Osaka and Kobe, but no extensive damage has been reported in those cities.

Reports from the region of Tama indicate the quake may have reached its greatest violence there. Dispatches say many houses collapsed, one railway bridge fell and several tunnels were damaged.

The quake was felt in the old province of Tango.

The earthquake occurred at 6:28 p. m. and continued for three minutes, with a horizontal motion. It was plainly felt here, causing considerable alarm, but no damage.

The Tokyo newspapers issued extra editions, publishing sensational reports that a number of fires had started at Osaka, telephone and electric service there had been suspended and that the populace had stampeded in a panic.

The Nippon Shimbun Rengo News Agency had no confirmation tonight of any serious damage at Kobe or Osaka. Several persons were reported injured at Osaka in the partial collapse of a moving picture theater.

Earthquake at Santiago, Cuba.

By the Associated Press.

HAVANA, March 7.—An earthquake was felt in Santiago de Cuba at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The tremor was of sufficient intensity to alarm the population, especially the residents of the Vista Alegre suburb, and is the eighth of a series that has occurred since Friday night. No damage was reported.

Federal Control Over State Votes Point Heard on Merit.

Federal control over state primaries for the selection of party candidates, recently receiving much attention in connection with senatorial elections in Illinois and Pennsylvania, was taken to the Supreme Court in an appeal by L. A. Nixon.

The Federal District Court for Western Texas, where Nixon sought $5000 damages for alleged deprivation of rights under the Federal and Texas Constitutions, dismissed the suit, holding that no question within its jurisdiction was presented.

The Supreme Court was urged, because of the importance of the controversy, to dispose of the appeal on its merits, and to announce in unqualified terms the exact relationship of "primaries" to "elections."

As analyzed by the court, during oral argument, the controversy was narrowed in its constitutional aspects to the question whether party primaries are elections. The constitutional guarantees against discriminating on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude had been annulled, and his

RIGHT OF NEGRO TO VOTE IN TEXAS PRIMARY UPHELD

U. S. Supreme Court Quashes State Law in Case of Man Denied Ballot in Democratic Poll.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The constitutional guarantee giving Negroes the right to vote applies to primaries as well as general elections, in the opinion of the Supreme Court of the United States.

Overthrowing a Texas statute under which Negroes are prohibited from voting in Democratic primaries, the Court today held that, even though the primary is not mentioned in the Federal Constitution, Federal jurisdiction is sufficient to bar the states from making primary laws out of harmony with the constitutional guarantee of equal rights for the races.

"States may do a good deal of classifying that it is difficult to believe rational," said the Court in a unanimous opinion, "but there are limits, and it is too clear for extended argument that color cannot be made the basis of a statutory classification affecting the right set up in this case."

Injustice of Law Apparent.

The Court said it was not even necessary to take into account the Fifteenth Amendment, which gives Negroes the right to vote, because the injustice of the Texas statute was sufficiently apparent when considered merely in the light of the Fourteenth Amendment, which prohibited the states from making any law to abridge the rights of citizens on account of race or color.

"The statute of Texas assumes to forbid Negroes to take part in a primary election, the importance of which we have indicated, discriminating against them by the distinction of color alone," said the opinion, which was by Justice Holmes. "The objection that the subject-matter of the suit is political is little more than a play upon words."

The decision was given in the case of L. A. Nixon, an El Paso Negro, who sought unsuccessfully in the lower courts to recover damages against election judges who refused to permit him to vote at a Democratic primary election. Moorfield Storey of Boston, his counsel, told the Supreme Court that $70,000 Negro voters in Texas had been excluded as ineligible to participate in Democratic primaries.

Nixon said he had voted the Democratic ticket for years prior to passage of the law.

OIL MAGNATE ON TRIAL

SINCLAIR JURY IN SENATE CONTEMPT CASE CHOSEN

Oil Man Is Accused of Refusing to Answer Questions as to Teapot Dome Lease.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Selection of a jury to try Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate, on a charge of contempt of the Senate in refusing to answer certain questions in the Teapot Dome investigation, required only a little more than two hours today in the District of Columbia Supreme Court.

The taking of testimony was delayed until tomorrow, Government counsel announcing that their witnesses had been summoned for that time.

Twenty-one veniremen were examined before the 12 men who are to hear the case finally were chosen. Three failed to qualify at the outset, two announcing they had formed opinions and the third informing the court he had served on the grand jury which indicted Sinclair for contempt.

List of the Jurors.

After the box had been filled the first time, counsel for defense and for the Government used up the three pre-emptory challenges allowed to them. Two Negroes qualified, but one was challenged by the defense and the other by the Government.

The jury as finally selected averaged 44 years in age. Two are only 25 years old, while two others have passed the 60 mark. The jurors are:

C. C. Bell, 61, street car motorman.

Raymond J. Thom, 36, electrician.

Albert E. Vanderloo, 25, real estate salesman.

James R. Cuff, 34, butcher.

Emory R. Irvin, 37, electrical contractor.

Joseph D. Snelling, 41, cigar salesman.

Charles F. Green, 25, railway clerk.

John L. Schultz, 53, grocer.

Isadore Turf, 56, watch repairer.

R. Elwood Kelly, 62, file clerk.

William B. Meade, 56, garage man.

Archibald A. Moore, 47, insurance solicitor.

Less than a dozen witnesses are to be called by the Government. Whether the defense will have any will depend upon developments, counsel said.

Mrs. Wilson's Brother Excused.

Julian B. Boling, a brother of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, was excused by counsel on both sides after he said he had formed an opinion.

J. Edward Park, manager of the press department of the Southern Railway, was tentatively accepted after long questioning.

Charles F. Green, a railway clerk, the seventh man to qualify, said he had read something about the Senate oil cases but that it "all was too deep for me."

Refusal to Answer Questions in 1924 Basis of Action.

Sinclair had refused to answer questions about the lease asked him by Senator Walsh of Montana at a hearing March 22, 1924. Special Government oil counsel based their case on a Federal statute making it a misdemeanor for a witness before a congressional committee to decline to answer a question considered pertinent to the inquiry. The law carries a fine of between $100 and $1000 and imprisonment from one to 12 months.

Although Sinclair had appeared five times before the Senate oil committee and replied to questions freely, yet upon his sixth appearance he declined to answer, on the advice of his counsel, 19 questions by Senator Walsh concerning his Mammoth Oil Co.'s lease. It was contended by the oil magnate that the case had passed into the hands of the courts with the filing by the Government in the District Court of Wyoming of a complaint questioning the validity of the lease.

In a ruling July 14, 1924, Justice Hoehling of the District of Columbia Supreme Court, held that six of the questions were pertinent, but because of the legal questions involved an appellate court ruling was suggested as more appropriate. In November, 1926, the Court of Appeals remanded it for trial.

KILLS HER DAUGHTER, WHO, UNWED, BECOMES A MOTHER

Parent Finds 15-Year-Old Child Cowering in Basement Over Baby, Which Later Died.

By the Associated Press.

RED BANK, N. J., March 7.—Mrs. Christine Stavole, mother of 10 children, today shot and killed her 15-year-old daughter, Rose, when she found the unwed girl cowering in the basement of her home with a new-born child. The mother then begged police to kill her. The baby was dead when found by police. Mrs. Stavole is charged with murder.

The mother was said to have quarreled with her daughter recently because of Rose's friendship for a man. Last night, while the mother, Rose and two other children were in the kitchen, the quarrel was renewed.

An hour later Mrs. Stavole went to the basement and found Rose with the new baby. The mother ran to the dining room, took a revolver from a drawer, returned to the basement and shot her daughter dead, Prosecutor Quinn said.

FOUND $15,000 DEFICIT IN PRISON SUPPLIES STOCK

Man Who Aided in Making Inventory Early in 1926 Heard by Senate Committee.

REPORTED MATTER TO THE DIRECTOR

Testifies Enloe Consulted Grocer Friend and Told Him to Charge Shortage to Shrinkage.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 7.—How a friend of Dr. Cortez F. Enloe, head of the State Penal Board, proposed to explain away a shortage of $15,000 in the penitentiary commissary was explained today to the Senate committee investigating charges of misconduct and mismanagement in the operation of the State prison.

Ralph Hammond, Jefferson City manager of the Goddard Grocery Co., testified he and others found the shortage in the stock when they were called in to take the annual inventory early in 1926. Hammond said that when he reported the shortage verbally to Enloe, the "little doctor" told him he was going to consult a friend of his who was an expert in such matters.

The "expert" proved to be Ben Harrison, proprietor of a Springfield cash-and-carry grocery, which has enjoyed a big growth during the Enloe administration. His plan to explain the shortage was to allow deductions for shrinkage and other losses. Enloe, Hammond testified, prepared a report explaining the $15,000 shortage as Harrison had suggested.

Refused to Sign Report. Hammond declared he would not sign the report because there was no basis for the deductions. Hammond had never made the report and the shortage as far as is known is still unexplained.

As a specific example of preference of purchases by the prison, Hammond told one occasion on which he quoted rice to the prison at $8.35 a hundred weight. He said Enloe "stood him up" on the appointments to discuss the proposed sale. But later J. E. Ruwart, present prison purchasing agent, testified 20,000 pounds of rice were bought from the Jefferson City Produce Co. at $7.50 a hundred weight and 300 pounds at $7.

Ruwart was questioned by the committee as to whether he was chairman of the Greene County Republican Committee. Several of them asked for quotations on foodstuffs, although prior to the Enloe administration his store appears to have enjoyed only a local business.

Other wires asking quotations on carload lots of potatoes were directed to J. H. Harrison in care of Ben Harrison and purported to be signed by Ruwart as purchasing agent. But Ruwart, who has admitted that he held his job in name only and that buying was handled by Enloe, declared he was sure he had not sent the quotations. The telegrams also included one proposition to be signed by Enloe and indicating he was going to meet Harrison to confer on a purchase.

Presents Written Statement.

Hammond, recalled to the stand, showed the committee a written statement which he said was prepared by Enloe and suggested to Hammond as explaining the commissary shortage. The statement also included an explanation of a shortage of 6000 gallons of gasoline which was declared missing because of errors in the handling of requisition.

J. A. Yates, a salesman of the Amos-James Grocery Co. of St. Louis, testified he seldom had an opportunity to make bids on supplies. Once, he said, he made an appointment with Dr. Enloe, hoping he could get an explanation of the attitude of the purchasing department in failing to ask for bids. "I waited almost three hours at his office," he said. "He was inside when I came, but he left by another way and I didn't get to see him."

With virtually all its evidence now in the record, the committee adjourned at 1 p. m. today subject to call within a few days. It is understood the committee will not meet again until Wednesday or Thursday night and that in the meantime an opportunity will be offered to Dr. Enloe, head of the Penal Board, and William B. McGregor, member of the board, to testify again.

While none of the committee members would state today what happened in an executive meeting preceding adjournment, it is understood there was evidence that some members of the investigating body to gloss over the revelations before the committee.

It was learned that former Lieutenant-Governor Painter, who was once head of the Penal Board himself, was the leader among the Democrats in expressing himself as inclined to be lenient with the members of the board. On the other hand, Senator Bates of St. Louis, a Republican, is understood to have expressed himself as un-

FORMER POLICEMAN ADMITS MURDER OF DETECTIVE

Charles H. Fitchett of Atlanta, Ga., Names Others in Plot to Slay Bert Donaldson.

By the Associated Press. ATLANTA, Ga., March 7.—A former Atlanta policeman under arrest in Chattanooga, Tenn., has confessed to murdering Bert Donaldson, special investigator for Solicitor John A. Boykin. Donaldson was assassinated in a fashionable hotel here last July.

Charles H. Fitchett, 31 years old, in a document delivered to the Atlanta Constitution, declares he killed the investigator at the instance of a group of rum runners and gamblers, who also planned to "get" the Solicitor-General.

Three men drew straws to see who would fire the shot. Fitchett asserted, and he drawing last, got the shortest straw. Jack Lance lured Donaldson to the hotel room, the confession said. R. K. Lovett invited the two inside, and he fired from a closet with a muffled shotgun as the investigator approached a table.

Fitchett, a policeman here in 1919, was arrested in Atlanta last November on charges of passing worthless checks and returning to Chattanooga. Solicitor Boykin said he doubted the accuracy of many points in the confession, but that he would bring the man here and take him before a Fulton County grand jury tomorrow.

Lance is serving a year's sentence in the Fulton jail on another charge. Lovett, arrested soon after the murder, later was released. Others implicated in the confession are: Ed Lee, described as having reserved the room in which the shooting occurred; Whitney Jones, Film King, Ike Sneed, Abe Nissenbaum, alias Spark Plug, and "an old man named McBryant."

BOOTLEGGER FIGHTS SUIT FOR INCOME TAX ON HIS PROFIT

U. S. Supreme Court to Review Ruling of Appellate Bench That He Can't Be Taxed.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, March 7.—The question whether bootleggers can be required to report their profits to the Federal Government for purposes of taxation will be decided by the United States Supreme Court.

An appeal was granted today in a case against Manly S. Sullivan of Charleston, S. C., convicted of violating the Federal revenue law by failure to file a tax return showing his income from the illicit sale of liquor. The Circuit Court of Appeals reversed the finding. To require such tax returns, it held, would amount to requiring persons to give testimony against themselves.

RIGHT OF NEGRO TO VOTE IN TEXAS PRIMARY UPHOLD

rights as a citizen of the United States to "vote" had been abridged. Nixon contended by the law of Texas under which Negroes are prohibited from voting in Democratic primaries.

Joseph M. Ebeling, a lawyer, who was treasurer of the defunct movement to recall Mayor Miller, opposed Neun for the presidential nomination. If he hoped to arouse antagonism from the administration because of his recall activity, which would redound to his benefit in the campaign, it has not appeared, and politicians think Neun will retain his place.

The warmest fight is likely to be for the Twelfth Ward Alderman, Petty, backed by the committee, is the candidate of Collector Koeln's faction. Koeln, who defeated Mayor Miller in the fight for places on the committee in last August's primary, also defeated Neumann in the latter's effort to gain the nomination for Collector. The Mayor was backing Neumann and is expected to support him for re-election as an Alderman, against Petty.

LIGHT VOTE IN CITY PRIMARY ON FRIDAY FORECAST

Comparatively Little Interest Aroused in Campaign for Nominations for Aldermanic Posts.

Comparatively little interest has been aroused in the campaign to select party nominees for president of the Board of Aldermen and members of the board from the 14 even-numbered wards, in the primary election to be held Friday. Politicians expect a light vote, perhaps only 50,000, out of a registration of about 270,000.

These are the only nominations to be made at this election. Thirty-five Republicans and 15 Democrats are in the field, the Democratic City Committee having found it necessary to draft one candidate for each place, since the city has such a heavy normal Republican majority. Those who receive the Republican nominations usually consider themselves as good as elected.

Stand of Committee. President Neun and 10 Aldermen, now in office, have received the indorsement of the Republican City Committee. In one ward there is a vacancy, in two the committee has indorsed opponents of the incumbents, and in the remaining ward it has withheld an indorsement, leaving committee members free to choose between candidates.

Mayor Miller, whose followers are expected to work for the two incumbents not backed by the committee, today issued a statement to deny that his administration was trying to control the political activity of the city employees, but saying it was the duty of every public employee to participate actively in all primaries and elections.

While I believe a person who is unwilling to participate in primaries and elections is not a proper person to hold public office," the Mayor said, "I have no desire to control the political activities of city employees in the coming aldermanic primary. All city employees are at liberty to vote and work for any candidate. No employee under the Mayor's direct or indirect control will be discharged or interfered with for refusal to obey commands as to his political activities, even though those demands may come from his superior or from any so-called political leader or boss."

The Mayor's statement concluded with the hope that city employees would vote for the candidates best fitted for office, who have proven themselves honest and intelligent.

Neun and Others Indorsed. The Republican City Committee has indorsed the following candidates: President, Walter J. G. Neun (incumbent); Second Ward, Alderman Randall (incumbent); Fourth, Alderman Otto (incumbent); unopposed; Sixth, Alderman Lange (incumbent); Eighth, Alderman Hirth (incumbent); Tenth, Alderman Meisinger (incumbent); Twelfth, William R. POLICE HOME RULE BILL PUT UP TO HOUSE BY COMMITTEE

Criminal Justice Body Reports Proposed Measure Without Recommendation.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. JEFFERSON CITY, March 7.—The police home-rule bill sponsored by the Missouri Association for Criminal Justice, which would give to St. Louis, Kansas City and St. Joseph divided State and local control of their police departments instead of exclusive State control, was reported out without recommendation today by the House Committee on Criminal Justice.

The committee held the bill for 29 days before any action was taken although the rules require a committee to report within 10 days after a bill is referred to it, unless an extension is granted by the House. This delay seriously endangers passage of the bill as the House calendar now is jammed with bills waiting passage, or enactment as a preliminary to third reading and passage.

Representative Manly Davis of Kansas City (Rep.), chairman of the committee who has been holding up the bill was made by Representative O. J. Page of Springfield, vice chairman of the committee. The Republican organization in Kansas City and some Democrats in St. Louis are opposed to the bill.

The bill would do away with the Boards of Police Commissioners in the three cities and substitute police administration by one commissioner to be appointed by the Mayor of the departments head charged with administration of matters of public safety. The commissioner would be subject to removal for cause by the Mayor or the Governor.

An amendment submitted with the bill by the House Criminal Justice Committee would defer the effective date of the law if passed until Jan. 15, 1929, after the Baker administration closes.

Hurley, Schwartz and Miller went to the Washington University law school tonight and Schwartz supported Miller policies in the board. There are two other candidates in this ward.

Fight in Second Ward. Miller backing may go to William Hoeft, a deputy of Assessor Gehner, an appointee of the Mayor, who is making a strong fight against Alderman Randall of the Second Ward. Charles H. Turpin, a Negro and former Constable, is among the three opponents of Alderman Lange of the Sixth Ward and is trying to soilify the city's Negro vote to make trades with candidates of other wards. Alderman Krueger of the Twenty-fourth ward has a woman opponent. Two women are on the Democratic ticket.

In the Twenty-eighth Ward the Republican City Committee has refused to indorse Alderman Waldman or his opponent, John A. Laird, charging against Laird that when he was President of the Police Board he refused to abide by recommendations of the committee. Waldman is likely to get most of the machine support.

The vote for Aldermen is city wide, although they represent the wards of their residence.

Supreme Court Holds Ohio Statute Invalid—Percentage System "Indefensible."

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, March 7.—The Supreme Court of the United States today declared the widespread practice of allowing local peace officers to pocket a percentage of the fines they impose to be indefensible under sound judicial polity. Holding invalid an Ohio law, which declared that every one accused of violating the law had a right to trial before a jury not financially interested in the result of the trial.

In addition to the Ohio case at issue, said Chief Justice Taft, the court in Arkansas, Kentucky, Nebraska, North Carolina, Georgia, Ohio and Texas to allow inferior judges no compensation except fees collected from convicted defendants. Such a practice seemed at one time to have obtained also, said the court, in Indiana, Oregon, Illinois and Alabama.

Must Avoid Temptation. "Every procedure," said the court, "which would offer a possible temptation to the average man as a judge to forget the burden of proof required to convict the defendant, or which might lead him not to hold the balance nice, clear and true between the State and the accused, denies the defendant due process of law."

The decision was read by Chief Justice Taft, who analyzed at length the Ohio statute giving the right of trial to Mayors. He declared the pecuniary interest of the Mayor was not the only objection.

"The statutes were drawn," he continued, "to stimulate small municipalities in the country part of counties in which there are large cities, to organize and maintain courts to try persons accused of violations of the prohibition act everywhere in the county. It specifically authorizes the village to employ detectives, deputy marshals and other assistants, and it offers to the village Council and its officers a means of substantially increasing to the income of the village."

Two Jobs Inconsistent. "The Mayor is the chief executive of the village. He is also the business of the village. He occupies two practically and obviously inconsistent positions, partial and the other necessarily involves a lack of process of law in the trial of defendants charged with crime for him."

HOUSE PENSION BILL BLOCKED

Proposed Constitutional Amendment on Informal Campaigns Social to the Post-Dispatch. JEFFERSON CITY, March 7.—Pension legislation in the Missouri Legislature encountered a setback today, when a proposed constitutional amendment to authorize teachers' pensions developed strong opposition in the House and drove the measure to the informal calendar.

The House recently killed a proposed constitutional amendment that would have enabled the State of St. Louis to establish a pension system to be supported from public funds.

The measure brought up today proposed a constitutional amendment to be submitted to the voters of the State, which would authorize any municipality, by local ordinance, to establish a system of teachers' pensions to be paid from public funds. It was brought up by Representative N. R. H. of Kansas City, the author. Representative Whitcomb of St. Louis immediately revived the proposal for an annual State pension of $450 for farmers over 65 years of age and under 75 on the teachers' pension proposal as an amendment. When opposition made it apparent that teachers' pension amendment might be defeated for engrossment, Holcomb withdrew it and placed it on the informal calendar.

Officials and Attorneys for Estate Reach Agreement on Amount to Be Paid.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 7.—An agreement between attorneys for the John I. Beggs estate and for the State of Wisconsin, whereby the estate will pay $1,225,000 in State inheritance and income taxes, was approved here today by Judge M. S. Sheridan. Of this $1,225,000 was for income taxes.

Louis Boitano Rescued From His Own Machine — Prisoner Refuses to Name His Companion.

In what he says was his first act of robbery, Harry French, 23 years old, a chauffeur, was shot and seriously wounded by a policeman last night. His companion escaped with $3 loot.

French, also known as Thomas, lives at 3153 A North Eleventh street, with his foster-parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Thomas. At 6:20 p. m. he and another man entered a yellow taxicab at Ninth and Howard streets and were driven about town for an hour, stopping at several places. Finally they got out on Third street south of Barry street, and held up the chauffeur, Louis Boitano, 27, of 3000 A Rutgers street. Boitano was robbed and forced into the taxicab, with French, who had a revolver, while the other robber took the wheel and drove west in Barry.

Seeing Patrolman Louis Brusatti on the northwest corner of Broadway and Barry, Boitano called for help and struggled with French. The policeman ran into the street as the cab passed and opened fire. A door opened and Boitano leaped out, shouting that he had been robbed. The policeman ran after the cab and fired again. He missed and emerged at the right, after penetrating his stomach and liver. He was operated on at City Hospital today.

The robber who escaped in the taxicab later abandoned it at Broadway and Rutgers street and is being sought. The marksmanship of Patrolman Brusatti was attested by two bullet holes in the back and right side of the cab.

Travels 7000 Miles to Meet Parents He Did Not Know

JOHN MUNTIAN, his parents and his sisters, photographed at Union Station.

Boy, 15, Left in Bessarabia as Infant by Mother in 1914, Sees Father and Sisters Here for First Time.

John Muntian, 15 years old, of Corjuzet, Bessarabia, ended his 7000-mile trip to America today.

Wearing his Russian lambskin turban and carrying a great walking stick, he arrived at Union Station at 7:10 a. m. but since America to him was wherever his parents were, he still wasn't sure he had reached it until he was seized by his father and two younger sisters whom he had never seen and by his mother whom he had not seen since he was 18 months old and did not remember.

It was a joyful homecoming. John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Muntian, of 200 Genhardt avenue, St. Louis County. They have been in America since 1906, but Mrs. Muntian went back to their native land shortly before John's birth in 1912 and when she returned in 1914 left the boy in the care of his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Muntian, on the western shore of the Black Sea. There he remained until Jan. 7 when he began his journey to America alone.

Suspicious of the "Red Cap."
John's family was in the Union before train time to be on the lookout for a lad who would alight from a Big Four train from New York. They were dashing down the platform, the two little girls, Doris, 11, and Zeena, 9, in the lead when John came rolling in, a wilderment down the steps of a Pullman struggling to keep his suitcase out of the hands of a "red cap." His identity as the homecoming traveler was unmistakable. "There he is," shouted Muntian, and the little girls both grabbed him about the same time. Their father was next and then Mrs. Muntian had her turn at embracing him. He couldn't speak a word of English but told his father in Russian that he had not had so much attention since he could remember. He could not talk to his sisters at first. He speaks both Russian and Rumanian, but the sisters, born in this country, know nothing of their ancestral tongue. They seemed puzzled when he couldn't answer their questions. "But we will teach him to talk," they declared.

Aided by Queen Marie.
Muntian, a street car motorman, finished his run at 12:30 but sat up the rest of the night because he was too greatly excited to sleep. "But I feel good now," he asserted. "At last I've got my family all together." He is a former Russian Cossack and deserted from the army to come to America in 1906. He has not been back there since. For two years, he said, he had been trying to bring his son to this country, but the trip had been delayed by immigration difficulties arising from the fact that the boy's birth certificate could not be found. As Bessarabia, formerly Russian, is now a province of Rumania, Muntian finally appealed directly to Queen Marie, shortly after her visit to America, and action was speeded up.

John left Bessarabia Jan. 7, going first to Bucharest, where he was held in a hospital for 15 days, then to Bremen, Germany, where he had to wait 12 days more before sailing on the President Roosevelt for New York.

He had an eventful trip. In mid-ocean the ship caught fire. A few days later a passenger died and he witnessed a burial at sea. Later the ship rode through a terrific storm and he got seasick. He said he got his biggest surprise of all, however, when he reached New York and found "the houses were so high."

A neighbor of the Muntians took the reunited family home from the station in his automobile, which was gaily decorated for the occasion with flags and bunting. It was John's first automobile ride and he liked it. "America is pretty good," he told his father after the ride. "I'm going to stay for life."

GIRL, 3, REACHES CITY AFTER 4500-MILE TRIP

Armenian Child Comes to St. Louis Alone From France to See Doctor.

Three-year-old Rose Ossian, her legs deformed, arrived at Union Station yesterday after a journey of some 4500 miles from France, to test the healing powers of American medicine and surgery. An Armenian child, Rose is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michel Ossian of Marseilles. She has been adopted by an uncle, George Ossian, a grocer, who lives at 711 Ponce street. Her father and mother in France, and her adopted father and mother here have every confidence that Rose's legs can be made right by American doctors.

Rose's father was one of the few members of his family who survived the Erzerum massacres in 1915. He fled to Syria, reaching Beirut with several other fugitives, where he was able to catch a boat for France. It was on this journey that he met his future wife.

Child Born in France.
In France, Michel Ossian was married. But times were difficult. The Franco was low, the newly married pair had hardships. Rose was born, and times did not improve. Then Rose fell ill and the aftermath was a deformity in her legs. Rose's parents wrote to George Ossian and his wife in St. Louis. They asked about American doctors. And George Ossian and his wife, who have no children, wrote back that American doctors were the greatest in the world, and they would like to adopt the child in order to give her medical attention. Rose's parents took her to Cherbourg the latter part of January. They put her on a liner, entrusted her to a steward, and she embarked on her journey across the Atlantic. At Ellis Island officials denied her entrance, because of her physical condition, and it was necessary for her uncle—now her adopted father—to post a bond that the child should not become a public charge.

From Troy, N. Y., to St. Louis, Rose was taken from Ellis Island to Troy, N. Y., by her uncle, Paul Ossian, a Troy grocer, and three days ago she set out on the last leg of her long journey. She is a bright child, with extraordinarily large black eyes, and she thinks that photographers' flashlights are rather funny. At any rate, she laughed heartily today at each of the three exposures in her new home, 711 Ponce street.

George Ossian, her foster father, came to this country in 1907. He has prospered recently and is part owner of a grocery at 247 Antelope street. "That child, she is bright," Ossian said. "She knows every word you say. Those doctors will fix her legs, and then she will go to school here. I would not take a million dollars for that kid. You see her smile?"

York and found "the houses were so high."

A neighbor of the Muntians took the reunited family home from the station in his automobile, which was gaily decorated for the occasion with flags and bunting. It was John's first automobile ride and he liked it. "America is pretty good," he told his father after the ride. "I'm going to stay for life."

BOY KILLS CHUM PLAYING MOVIES IN 'COWBOY HUNT'

Stanley Hales, 14, Takes Father's Revolvers for Mock Contest and Shoots Edward Combs Dead.

Two 14-year-old schoolboy chums played cowboy in moving picture fashion yesterday afternoon. The game was to see who was "quickest on the draw." With revolvers, they stalked each other through imaginary underbrush in the house at 4131 Prairie avenue, until they met face to face in a hallway, 10 feet apart. Stanley Hales, whose home it was, whipped out his weapon, pulled the trigger and killed his playmate, Edward Combs, of 4241 Wayne avenue.

Stanley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hales, were away and Edward had gone over, to go with Stanley to the matinee at the Grand Opera House. According to Stanley, Edward suggested "Let's play cowboy." "Let's have a mock contest," Stanley said. "I'll give you my father's revolvers." Edward did not know that his weapon had two cartridges in it.

When the shot was fired, Edward fell over on his face. Stanley thought it part of the game, he told the police, and ran over and shook him. "Quit fooling, Eddie, and get up," he said. Then he saw blood streaming from Edward's forehead and realized what he had done.

Tell Story of Robbery.
Stanley fled to the street, looking for help, and frantically shouted to a passing motorist who drew up at the curb. "Mister," the boy exclaimed, "a burglar just shot my pal. He took my father's revolvers. Where Edward's body was and the man called the police."

At first, Stanley insisted a robber came through the kitchen door and fired at Edward when they refused to raise their hands. But, after police found the two revolvers on the floor, he tearfully told his story, which was repeated at an inquest today. A verdict of accidental shooting was returned, after which Stanley, who had not testified, was taken into Coroner's office, who is waiting trial in the State and Federal courts. Judge Babcock said:

"I am unable to reconcile the testimony of witnesses for the State. It is on their testimony, the State must rely. The alleged offense occurred in January, 1925, and the State did not act, either through its officers or the grand jury. It is now a matter of common knowledge that the last grand jury refused to take action. Good faith and ulterior motives cannot co-exist. There being insufficient proof that the crime was committed, the defendant is discharged."

Kearney is scheduled to go on trial March 10 on a charge of transporting whisky from Pisk to Poplar Bluff.

Gets Father's Revolver.
Stanley got his father's revolvers—a .35-caliber weapon and a .32-caliber weapon—from a chiffonier drawer. He kept the larger weapon on for himself, gave the other to his playmate, and the game began. He did not know that his weapon had two cartridges in it.

When the shot was fired, Edward fell over on his face. Stanley thought it part of the game, he told the police, and ran over and shook him. "Quit fooling, Eddie, and get up," he said. Then he saw blood streaming from Edward's forehead and realized what he had done.

FIFTY MORE LOCKED OUT IN CLEANERS' UNION FIGHT
Chenoweth Plant at 4731 Delmar Boulevard Closed to Employees—Wage Conference Tonight.

The third lockout in the dispute between the Cleaners, Dyers & Pressers Union and employers occurred today, when 50 men and women workers at the Chenoweth Dyeing & Cleaning Co., 4731 Delmar boulevard, were refused admittance to the plant.

The employees were locked out because they joined the union, according to John Tesar, secretary of the Chenoweth company, who is trying to unionize all of the 900 employees in the 23 retail cleaning plants in the city. Tesar is taking measures to picket the Chenoweth plant and have the concern placed on the union unfair list. Edward Miller, manager of the company, could not be reached for a statement.

The first lockout was at the Star Dyeing & Cleaning Co., 2515 North Grand boulevard, two weeks ago, followed a day later by similar action at Scott's Cleaning Co., 5229 Olive street.

A wage conference between union leaders and representatives of the 18 wholesale and three retail cleaning concerns, which have recognized the union, will be held at the Fraternal building, Eleventh street and Franklin avenue, tonight.

Mass Meeting to Renew Fight for Daylight Saving in St. Louis

Public and 200 Organizations Summoned by Chamber of Commerce, Which Declares Favorable Sentiment Growing.

Daylight saving was vigorously espoused today by the Chamber of Commerce in calling a meeting of 200 business, professional and recreational organizations and the public for 3 p. m. Wednesday in room 802, Chamber of Commerce Building.

"For a number of years St. Louis has been almost alone among the large cities in its policy of ignoring daylight saving during the summer months," said the notices of the mass meeting. "We regard this as a vital issue and are writing to ask for your co-operation in a movement having for its purpose the development of public interest in this question."

"The Chamber of Commerce will be glad to co-operate with your organization and others in St. Louis in a movement to arrive at the final sentiment of the people upon this subject, and if it is found there is a great majority favoring daylight saving, to co-operate in an effort to have the proper legislation passed."

The movement has lain dormant in St. Louis since the Board of Aldermen gave it a unanimous knockout in 1923. Some labor unions and moving picture interests opposed it. The American Federation of Labor had supported the amendment to an agriculture law which knocked out national daylight saving after it had been in effect in 1918 and 1919. A straw vote of employees last week in five large St. Louis offices, however, as told in the Post-Dispatch, favored daylight saving by 2963 to 404.

"It is our opinion that conditions have changed in St. Louis so that there will be slight opposition to this plan," said Lon Sanders, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Members' Conference. "We haven't the number of airframes we had in 1921 and 1922, and daylight saving would really aid the increasing numbers of theaters which have cooled air systems."

"On investigation I find that 17 of the largest cities in this country are all for a daylight saving plan. It puts us at a great disadvantage as a city in telegraphic communication and in the transaction of business of all kinds."

"Of course, the greatest factor to be considered is that turning the clock back means a loss of an opportunity for all of the people to enjoy more outdoor exercise and to appreciate the wonderful parks and recreation places in St. Louis."

POPULAR BLUFF PROSECUTOR HELD NOT GUILTY OF PERJURY
Judge Holds Proof of Bootlegger's Charge Against Officer to be Insufficient.

POPULAR BLUFF, Mo., March 7.—Judge George Babcock this afternoon found Prosecuting Attorney Byron Kearney not guilty of perjury.

Kearney was tried before Justice Babcock last Thursday following his arrest a week before on complaint of Isom Pope, alleged bootlegger, who is awaiting trial in the State and Federal courts. Judge Babcock said:

"I am unable to reconcile the testimony of witnesses for the State. It is on their testimony, the State must rely. The alleged offense occurred in January, 1925, and the State did not act, either through its officers or the grand jury. It is now a matter of common knowledge that the last grand jury refused to take action. Good faith and ulterior motives cannot co-exist. There being insufficient proof that the crime was committed, the defendant is discharged."

Kearney is scheduled to go on trial March 10 on a charge of transporting whisky from Pisk to Poplar Bluff.

By The Associated Press.
CHICAGO, March 7.—The mother of Harold J. Croarkin testified today in an effort to save him from the gallows. Mrs. Peter Croarkin recited a history of childhood illnesses and deficiencies of her son, which she said stunted him intellectually and physically as he grew to his present age of 26 years.

Her story, to be followed by those of her three daughters and that of Croarkin's former sweetheart, was a part of the defense plan to establish insanity. Croarkin killed little Walter Schmitt Jr., Dec. 17 last.

WOMAN KILLED IN FALL OR LEAP FROM 15TH FLOOR
By The Associated Press.
NEW YORK, March 7.—Mrs. Nathalie Seible Schley, widow of Buchanan Schley Jr., who was deputy collector of the port of Baltimore in the administration of President Cleveland, died today after a fall or a leap from a window on the fifteenth floor of Hotel Buckingham on West Fifty-seventh street.

The body, fully clothed, was found on a roof over an extension on the second floor by her son, Buchanan Schley, a cotton broker, who lived in a suite with his mother.

Schley knocked at his mother's door to greet her this morning and receiving no response, walked in. Looking out of the open window he saw her body on the roof below.

Mrs. Schley's husband, who died here on Nov. 15, was for 20 years a member of the New York Cotton Exchange and was a first cousin of the late Rear Admiral Schley of Spanish War fame.

CLEANUP DRIVE FOR ST. CHARLES URGED AT RALLY

Citizens' Mass Meeting Decides to Organize Law and Order Committee for Campaign.

"The greatest menace confronting the people of St. Charles County is the danger of gang rule and gang warfare here," declared Attorney Bloebaum, declared at a meeting of nearly 200 citizens in the St. Charles Courthouse yesterday afternoon. The meeting decided to organize an Executive Committee to work for law enforcement, particularly against moonshiners.

"The most powerful factor in enforcing any law," Bloebaum continued, "is the moral force of the community. The fact that citizens have met here to discuss the gangster, whoever he may be and wherever he may be, that the people of St. Charles County are ready to meet him. If the gangster knows this he won't come on this side of the Missouri River. The very fact of this meeting raised doubt in the gangster's mind as to the safety of coming here. I believe the laws are enforced as well in St. Charles County—I refer to the laws in general—as in any other community of its size."

St. Charles County is across the Missouri River from St. Louis County, where, Bloebaum said, "gangs have been doing their nefarious work for years."

Danger From City Outlaws. Other factors threatening St. Charles County with gang rule, he went on, were the proximity of St. Louis and the presence of a paved national highway, so that there is a "natural danger of the outlaw element coming out here, sticking up us country folks."

While the greater part of the gathering, which filled the Circuit Court room, comprised men and women from the city of St. Charles, various parts of the county were represented. County Farm Agent Robert Langenbacher presided. The meeting followed one a week ago Sunday, which had been called hastily by Tom Noble, a civil engineer, and friends, to protest against the prevalence of moonshining and bootlegging in the county. Langenbacher was authorized to appoint a Nominating Committee to select men and women representing all parts of the county for the Executive Committee. Time for another general meeting was not fixed.

Guy Motley of Lindenwood College, a girl's school in St. Charles, introduced the resolution calling for the Executive Committee and constituting those at yesterday's gathering as a committee of citizens for the preservation of their rights. The resolution also urged all public officials to "be mindful of their oaths of office."

Bloebaum Blames Sheriff.

The public indignation which led to the meeting was fostered by the recent discovery and destruction of large whisky stills on Mississippi River islands by Federal agents, the bombing of a roadside at Boshertown and the attempted bombing of the home of a St. Charles policeman, where a prohibition informer boarded; the alleged open sale of whisky to boys and girls, and the common talk that trucks of whisky and supplies for stills pass nightly through St. Charles. Bloebaum has complained that Sheriff Grothe has failed to co-operate in stopping the liquor traffic, but the Sheriff's office defended itself.

Langenbacher told yesterday's gathering that several business men had said they could not attend for fear of hurting their business. Noble asked speakers to refrain from personalities, declaring it was not the intention to "single out some one man and say, 'You're crooked.'"

When it became apparent that most of those present had come to listen rather than to talk, the Rev. H. M. Hardaway of the St. Charles Methodist Church said he thought it could be concluded that all were of one mind. However, F. C. Becker of St. Charles urged anybody who knew of law violations to stand up and describe them. "What are we going to do? What's our purpose?" he demanded.

Citizens Make Complaints.

What response there was related to presence of intoxicated men on the streets of the county seat, alleged failure of an unnamed "deputy" to look for a stolen automobile, which citizens discovered, and the assertion of Langenbacher that "within five blocks of where I live there is a 12-year-old girl being held under conditions far from favorable." Langenbacher added: "We are not talking about prohibition alone, but general law enforcement. If a man wants to have a little wine or home brew, let him have it." A voice in the audience, at this, cried: "Hear! Hear!"

Edward Aubuchon, the informer who told Federal agents about the Island stills, has written to the Post-Dispatch in denial of the assertion of Federal authorities that he is the man of that name who, records show, was fined $500 in Federal Court here for possession of liquor, after a still was found on his St. Charles County farm.

YOUTH FATALLY INJURED WHEN AUTO HITS TREE

William Cullen, 19, of East St. Louis, Lost Control of Wheel and Machine Overturned After Crash.

HE AND COMPANIONS HAD BEEN DRINKING

Two Boys Seriously Hurt When Run Down in St. Louis—Two Motor Cycle Policemen in Collisions.

William Cullen, 19 years old, of 1206A State street, East St. Louis, was fatally injured at 2:10 a. m. yesterday when he lost control of his automobile which ran onto a sidewalk, struck a tree and overturned in a vacant lot in the 2000 block on State street, Granite City. He died six hours later.

A coroner's verdict of accident while driving when intoxicated was returned at an inquest, on the testimony of his two companions, Jack Coveny and Edward Schaffer of East St. Louis, who escaped with scratches. They had spent several hours with Cullen, they said, during which they visited several saloons in East St. Louis.

Victim Plunged Under Auto. Driving north on State street, they came to a section which is extremely rough and generally avoided by motorists. Cullen drove ahead and when the front wheels plunged into a depression he lost his grip on the steering wheel.

Neighbors who heard the crash went to the aid of the three youths Coveny and Schaffer had been thrown from the machine and were gazed, but Cullen was pinned under the wreckage. He did not regain consciousness.

Cullen was a vulcanizer employed in an East St. Louis tire shop. His mother is Mrs. Della Collins of 545 Collinsville avenue, East St. Louis.

STUDENT HELD ON BURGLARY

CHARGE RELEASED ON BOND

Henry E. Threlkeld to Appear Before Washington U. Committee on Discipline.

Expressing eagerness to return to his studies in the school of Commerce and Finance at Washington University with a view to graduation this spring, Henry Edward Threlkeld, 23-year-old senior, was released on a $2500 bond yesterday under a first-degree burglary charge. He planned to spend the night with fraternity brothers, he said, and was prepared to appear before the university's Committee on Discipline today to plead his case.

Threlkeld was arrested early Friday morning in the basement of a South Side home, where he had forced entrance. He pleaded lapse of memory and suggested overstudy as the cause. If the Committee on Discipline should accept his explanation, Chancellor Hadley will have the final decision.

Prof. George O. James, dean of the college and head of the Committee on Discipline, explained today that Threlkeld would have to appeal to Dean Loeb of the Commerce School, who would refer the plea to the committee. The committee, he said, would judge the case on the evidence.

EDUCATORS OF YALE DRIVEN OUT OF CHINA

Group Quits Chang-Sha Under Consular Orders—Reports Soviet Influence.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 7.—Refugees from China, driven from that country by warring factions, and members of the faculty of Yale in China have arrived here to tell the Board of Trustees of the institution of conditions in that country. Among these were: Dr. E. D. Harvey of New Haven, secretary of the board; Dr. Phillips F. Green of Montclair, N. J., and Dr. H. R. Rollins of Granby, Conn., members of the medical staff; Lewis K. Gilbert of New Haven, and Miss Nina D. Gage, dean of the nursing school and the convent children.

This group left Chang-sha, under consular instructions, in company with a number of other Americans from Chang-sha and journeyed to Hankow, where they were not permitted to land but changed to a larger steamer in mid-stream, and from there to Shanghai, was made without incident. Dr. Harvey quoted the captain of an American gunboat, saying that the Chinese had decided not to harm the person of a single foreigner but they were determined to drive them out by giving them nervous prostration for fear they would suffer violence.

Russian Influence Evident.

Dr. Harvey, who has spent over 10 years at Yale in China, declared that under the temper of a strong minority now in control of central China it has become practically impossible to carry on an educational institution in the disturbed areas. Social drifts and currents are now set in motion through the medium of this revolution which contain elements both of good and evil for the Chinese people.

The Nationalist movement, he said, is truly Chinese in its inception and early development but has been strongly tinged with Russian influence and propaganda during the last six months. Notwithstanding his personal disappointment at the circumstances which had made it necessary to close the institution, Dr. Harvey expressed the opinion that there was never before Chinese affairs demand sympathetic treatment.

$20,000,000 Paid by Soviets.

Dr. Rollins stated that he had "learned from reliable source that $20,000,000 was paid by Russia to the Kuomintang, or People's Party, for the privilege of following along in the wake of the Chinese Army to reach and organize Sovietism in China. The arrival of the Russian Consul in Chang-sha last November marked the beginning of the end for Yale in China. He at once became the most important person in the city. A great celebration was held to commemorate the death of Lenin.

Dr. Rollins was particularly impressed with the restraint which the British soldiers displayed at Hankow, where a single shot would have started a serious conflagration. Coolies bared their breasts and dare the British Tommies to shoot, knowing the wave of Anti-British hatred which would sweep China as a result.

The trustees of Yale in China, notwithstanding the somewhat pessimistic outlook in Chang-sha as reflected in these various reports, reaffirmed their confidence in China and in the Chinese people. They will maintain a nucleus in China, where D. H. Leavens, '39, and F. H. Hutchins, brother of Robert Hutchins, 1921, secretary of the University, remain with special consular permission. A cablegram received from Leavens reported that they were quite safe and that conditions remained unchanged.

Letter Ordering Departure.

The following letter received by the refugees from the American Consulate in Chang-sha, he added, by J. C. Vincent, the American vice consul in charge, explains the presence of the Yale people in the United States:

"Recent advice which I have received renders it urgent that certain classes of Americans in Hunan withdraw at once. I have included you and your family among those who can be accommodated on the British Changwe, which will arrive at Lohington four hours from Chang-sha tomorrow. A large tug will transport the people and their personal baggage to the Changwe. This tug will leave Chang-sha, Thursday, Friday or Saturday morning. It is not possible to fix the date yet. I will inform you in time. It has been decided that those leaving on this boat should spend the night previous on the island. Arrangements will be made for quarters. It will be necessary for you to bring food enough for 19 days, and bedding. Men should bring a camp stool. Passage will not be charged to Hankow, but you will have to make your own arrangements for passage to Shanghai. No Chinese agents will be allowed to accompany you. If it is not possible for you to leave on this boat, and absolute impossibility should be the only reason for your not going, let me know at once in order that others may take your place. This letter is strictly confidential."

FOR Acid Stomach

PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

Better Than Soda

For fifty years genuine "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Because it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging, it is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Try a 25c Bottle

Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drug stores. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

CITY VALUATION SHOWS $53,000,000 INCREASE

Assessor Gehner Reckons St. Louis Realty and Personality at $1,127,906,840.

An increase of $53,000,000 in the assessed valuation of St. Louis real estate, attributed mainly to new buildings, is shown in Assessor Gehner's report, forwarded today to the State Tax Commission, giving a total assessed valuation of real and personal property in St. Louis of $1,127,906,840. The valuation is as of June 1, 1926.

Estimates of building in St. Louis for the calendar year, 1926, showed a decrease, attributed by Building Commissioner Christopher to a falling off of the speculative building which characterized 1925. He reported Dec. 30 that the year's building and alteration permits amounted to $39,370,513.

The total assessed valuation as of June 1, 1925, was $1,074,906,840, or $53,000,000 less than June 1, 1926. Real estate in 1926 was assessed at $962,424,890, as compared to $909,122,150 for 1925, whereas assessment of personal property slightly declined, from $158,660,170 in 1925 to $165,471,950 in 1926.

Complaints of taxpayers who think their assessments too high will be heard by the Board of Equalization beginning March 15, after the State Tax Commission has passed on Assessor Gehner's report. The taxes are due next December.

Bank stocks were the chief item of personal property in the 1926 assessment, with an assessed value of $61,462,660. Other money, notes, bonds and securities were assessed at $41,254,910; household property, $20,565,910; paintings, bric-a-brac and the like, $15,665,520.

Motor vehicles were assessed at $25,550,910, whereas 7095 horses in St. Louis were assessed at $462,850; 1807 mules, $120,880; 1412 cattle, $62,350; 15 sheep, $110; 35 hogs, $290.

Mrs. Edna Eppelsheimer, 31 years old, of 2607 Natural Bridge avenue, died at City Hospital at 2:30 a. m. today of poison which her husband took by mistake. Frank Eppelsheimer told police men he had been awakened at 12:30 a. m. by his wife's moans and had found her semi-conscious. He called doctors who rushed her to the hospital, where she died without making a statement. He thinks she was in the night to get a tablet for a cold and in the darkness got the poison.

MOTORCYCLE OFFICER INJURED

Four Held in Counterfeit Plot. BENTON, Ill., March 7.—Rev. Simmons, said to be a friend of Charles Binger, gangster, is held in jail here for questioning in connection with the circulation of counterfeit $20 bills in Franklin and Williamson Counties. He was arrested at West Frankfort. Three others, Blanche Tucco and Pearl Wilson of West Frankfort and Thomas Elliott of Roylton, are in custody. The alleged passing of the money by Blanche Tucco at a roadside near Roylton started the Government investigation. Bills passed in Benton are said to have been $1 bills bleached and then made into "gold certificates."

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

FACES DISSOLUTION

Board of Control Refuses to Go On Unless Financial Support Is Guaranteed.

Until eight more St. Louisans have subscribed $5000 a year each for a three-year period, the three-year contract of Conductor Rudolph Ganz, which expires with the current symphony season, will not be renewed, nor will any other contracts or arrangements be made for next winter's season of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, George D. Markham, chairman of the Symphony Society, announced today.

The Society's board of control has decided, Markham said, that it will not court a repetition of the financial uncertainty of the past winter which threatened to cause abandonment of the orchestra. It does not care to enter into any contract which it cannot reasonably expect to fulfill.

12 Pledges Necessary.
Twelve $5000-a-year pledges would insure the orchestra $60,000 a year, and the Symphony leaders felt that the remaining $45,000 of the estimated annual expense could be raised by smaller subscriptions. So far only four St. Louisans have pledged $5000-a-year, the first being Charles Wiggins of 17 Portland place. Each pledge is on the condition that 11 others do likewise.

Arrangements must be made within the next few weeks, Markham said, if there is to be a symphony season next year, for contracts must be made before the orchestra is disbanded for the season. The last of the regular concerts will be given this week but the orchestra will remain intact for a series of community concerts. Markham and his associates are hopeful that within 10 days the board of control will be able to announce 12 names on a list of $5000-a-year subscribers and begin a campaign for other three-year subscriptions to insure the other $60,000 a year.

$50,000 Gift Saved Orchestra.
Early in January, when the orchestra was facing dissolution, Mrs. John Fowler of 35 Portland place, came forward with a gift of $50,000, enough to pay all the orchestra's expenses for the balance of the season.

At a meeting of the society Saturday afternoon the resignation of George R. Robinson, secretary-manager, was submitted. He explained that he felt the work was too exacting, for reasons of health. The appointment of a successor will be held in abeyance with other plans for 1927-28.

TEN MORE GOLFERS ARRESTED UNDER SUNDAY BLUE LAW

Cigarette Merchant in South Carolina Also Held, but Injunction Protects Alken Folk.

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 7.—Arrest of 10 more golfers and dealer accused of selling cigarettes and soft drinks has given the courts another opportunity of interpreting South Carolina's century-old Sunday closing laws. A row had developed from an Alken jurist's order enjoining their enforcement.

Under protection of Judge Rice's injunction granted at the request of Thomas Hitchcock of New York, winter residents and others played golf at the Palmetto and High Park clubs outside the city limits of Alken yesterday. When four constables attempted to enforce the law, they were served with a copy of the temporary restraining order.

RIOTING PUPILS DUCK TEACHER

Trinidad Farm School Principal Rescued by Woman Friend.

By the Associated Press.
MANILA, March 7.—The Times says Principal James A. Wright of the Trinidad farm school at Baguio, not only was tied to a post by rioting students yesterday, but also was "ducked" in a brook. An investigation has been ordered by Governor-General Wood. The cause of the riot has not been made known.

A dispatch to the Times from Baguio further developed that Wright was rescued from the students by a woman friend and a party of her acquaintances. It previously was reported that his wife had effected the rescue. Wright is not married.

GLASS LOOKS INTO LOBBYING

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 7.—Preliminary investigation into his own charges that a banking lobby worked for the Hull amendments to the McFadden branch banking bill during the last session of Congress will be started soon by Senator Carter Glass (Dem.) of Virginia.

Should Glass decide to continue the inquiry it will be in the hands of a subcommittee of the Senate Banking Committee, including Glass, and Senators Edge of New Jersey and Sackett of Kentucky, both Republicans. Glass charged that a group of chain bankers were active in support of the Hull amendments which would have placed further restrictions on branch banking. The amendments were struck out of the measure.

STOMACH SO BAD HE HAD TO GIVE UP JOB

Back at Work Now, Gained 30 Pounds by Using Milks Emulsion.

"Over a year ago my health got so bad I had to give up my work as coal miner. Had a very bad case of stomach trouble. I felt so bad that I could not eat anything, and therefore, was too weak to work. I had been doctoring for a long time, but did not improve any."

I finally started to take Milks Emulsion and then went to a farm near here to work. I carried my Emulsion bottle with me all the time, took it regularly and gained in strength and flesh every day, and was able to work the entire season. I brought on the farm, and now I am back at my work in the Greenidge Coal Mine.

"When I started taking Milks Emulsion I was down to 135 pounds, but now I weigh 165, and am as strong and healthy as I ever was."

—Lem Myers, Virden, Ill.
Milks Emulsion restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food, thus building flesh and strength, which are Nature's only aids in conquering germs and repairing the effects of wasting diseases.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. Wonderful for weak, sickly children. No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion. If not satisfied with results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. Sold by druggists everywhere.

URUGUAYAN FLYERS ARE REPORTED ALIVE

Larre-Borges and Companions Said to Be Hiking Back to Casablanca.

By the Associated Press.
CASABLANCA, Morocco, March 7.—Maj. Tadeo Larre-Borges, Uruguayan aviator, and his three companions today were nearing the end of a 60-mile trek through a sparsely populated region of Spanish Northwest Africa from the place where their wrecked seaplane was found Saturday.

Guided and protected by a band of friendly Moorish tribesmen, the Uruguayans headed for Cape Jubi. Only when they reach there will it be known just how their plane came to grief, and how they escaped with their lives.

When Larre-Borges hopped off from Casablanca, Wednesday morning, it was his intention to fly to Cape Jubi, thence to the Canary Islands and across the South Atlantic to Montevideo, Uruguay. Nothing was heard of him for some time. Then on Saturday his wrecked plane was sighted at the mouth of a stream about 60 miles north of Cape Jubi, but there was no sign of the men, causing renewed fears that they had fallen into the hands of unfriendly natives. Yesterday, however, Curiean aviators made a landing on the desolate shore and learned from natives that the four men were on the way to Cape Jubi.

Only recently a mail pilot forced to land on this stretch of the African coast was captured by natives and was tortured so that he died soon after he was released.

Maj. Sarriniento Beires of Portugal who started from Lisbon on a round-the-world-in-190-days flight the same day that Larre-Borges left Casablanca, arrived at Bolama, Portuguese Guinea, yesterday from Villa Cisneros. He is overhauling his plane for the long flight across the Atlantic to Port Natal, Brazil.

Madrid Hears Flyers Are Captives

MADRID, March 7.—The Spanish Government has sent orders to the military commanders in Spanish Morocco to attempt immediate rescue of Maj. Tadeo Larre-Borges, Uruguayan aviator, and his companions from the tribesmen who are understood to be holding them.

The Uruguayan minister has received a dispatch from Cape Jubi saying it has been impossible to make much progress in the search for the flyers owing to storms in the vicinity in which their plane was found.

GIRL, 19, ABDUCTED, JUMPS FROM AUTO AND ESCAPES

Miss Monette Heimberger Seeks Refuge in Doctor's Home
When Pursued.

Miss Monette Heimberger, 19 years old, of 219 North Gore avenue, Webster Groves, who was reported missing by her mother at 8:15 o'clock last night, ran into the home of Dr. A. D. Nichols, 5261 Vernon avenue, three hours later, and reported having been abducted by several men who drove her about St. Louis County.

As she was on her way to join her mother and sister at the West Presbyterian Church, 5870 Maple avenue, Miss Heimberger said, a blanket was thrown over her head and she was placed in an automobile. For some time, it was her impression, she was driven over county roads. No attempt was made to harm her and when they returned to the city she jumped to the street as they drove in Vernon avenue, two blocks west of Dr. Nichols' home.

Two of the men pursued her, she said, until she rang the doorbell. She told Dr. Nichols that she believed another girl was held captive in the rear seat.

PEOPLES' MOTORBUS DRIVER FINED $25 FOR SPEEDING

James Goodpaster Made 47 Miles an Hour, Policeman Testifies—Defendant Appeals.

A $25 fine for speeding in a People's motorbus, 45 miles an hour, on South Grand boulevard, was levied on James Goodpaster, 24 years old, of 6902 Scanlon avenue, today in police court.

Goodpaster, who wears a university fraternity pledge pin and said he expected to return to Washington University next September, appealed. He said he did not believe he was going more than 25 miles an hour, although Motor-Cycle Patrolman Shetkey testified the actual speed of the bus was 47 miles an hour when he followed it from Connecticut street to Potomac street on the evening of Feb. 20.

TWO ARRESTED FOR HOLDUP

Identified in Shooting of Man and Dog in East Side Bar in 1925.

Charles Carnahan, 24 years old, and W. H. Rule, 40, both of East St. Louis, arrested in St. Louis Friday, have been identified as two of the three robbers who got $25 in the holdup of William Garvey's saloon, 1435 East Broadway, East St. Louis, Sept. 11, 1925, shooting Garvey's son, Fred. Rule has been identified as the man who shot Garvey, and Carnahan as the one who shot a dog that barked at the robbers.

Carnahan has been identified also as the robber who took $50 from A. J. Chatillon, grocer, at Dupon, in a holdup last July 18.

Two Children Burned to Death.

By the Associated Press.
IRON RIVER, Mich., March 7.—Although firemen entered their home to extinguish a blaze they did not see the two small children of Mr. and Mrs. John Kusinski, who were huddled under the bedclothes in their room. When the mother returned from a neighbor's she rushed to the bedroom and found them dead. One was a boy, 5 years old, and the other a girl, 3.

54 YEARS OF PROGRESS

In 1873 those who visited the village of St. Louis emerged triumphantly from a flatboat or one of the two-keel boats with cannon equipment which plied their way from New Orleans and the North. All survivors were a great social asset for their Indian tales, the river journey in those days being far more thrilling than a trip around the globe today.

St. Louis was the mart of a vast commerce and the center of an immense transit with a thousand miles of river frontage at her command. Many of the great steamboats of those days were built at our own docks and almost any day more than a mile of boats would be seen nosing into the landing.

NUGENTS

THE STORE FOR ALL THE PEOPLE

"THE OLD ORDER CHANGETH," customs and methods dwindle into oblivion. The once-famous river boat is no longer the King of Commerce. Today we cross a continent as speedily as we formerly crossed a state. Swift ships conquer distance and link the old and new worlds. Airplane mails cease to be a novelty. The radio takes its place in the American home.

Change! Progress! The New! The Modern! St. Louis with its towering skyline is very different from the post-war city of 1873. Nugents, at Broadway and Washington avenue, bears today, outwardly, no resemblance to the small store of long ago. But there remains through this transition certain fundamentals that went into the making of both the city and this store. Nugents reputation for quality, so carefully maintained in the early years of the business, remains untarnished. This store has never found a substitute for the old-fashioned word, "Service." The ideals of the founders of a forward-looking institution, an integral part of the community that it serves, have been preserved and developed.

CONFESSES PART IN MELLETT MURDER

Immunity Promised Louis Mazer "if He Tells Truth" to Grand Jury.

By the Associated Press.
CANTON, O., March 7.—Louis Mazer, first man indicted for the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton editor, killed last July, will go before the Stark County grand jury when it convenes tomorrow, and if he repeats the story he related Saturday to County Prosecutor Henry W. Harter Jr., will obtain immunity.

This formal statement was issued today by Harter. It is the first official confirmation that Mazer had confessed a part in the plot to kill the editor. Harter's statement follows:

"The latter part of last week reliable information was brought to the Court that Louis Mazer desired to confess. Thereupon the Judge sent his representative as an officer of the court to consult with Louis Mazer and his representative reported that Louis Mazer desired to tell his story and had not told it fully to anyone else.

"On Saturday morning following this report to the court, I, myself, and my assistant, James M. Augst, heard Louis Mazer's statement, it being taken in shorthand notes by a court stenographer.
Yesterday, Sunday afternoon, Ora
M. Slater, employed by this office as an investigator, and I had a long interview with Louis Mazer, and all of us are fully and firmly convinced that Louis Mazer is telling the truth.

"I expect to use him as a State's witness and if he is used as a State's witness and tells the truth he will be granted immunity. The information which Louis Mazer has given is considered very valuable by the State, particularly as against those persons already named as conspirators, and while it may not and probably will not result in a return of additional indicements at this time, the State thinks that it will materially aid in the solution of the entire conspiracy."

The appeal of Ben Rudner, serving life sentence for the Mellett killing, which began to have been heard today, has been indefinitely postponed on account of the new developments.

HOUSE, OIL STATION AND THREE AUTOS LOST IN $10,000 FIRE

Five Companies Answered Alarm at Centerville Station, Suburb of East St. Louis.

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed an oil filling station and an adjoining frame dwelling at 4701 Bond avenue, Centerville Station, an East St. Louis suburb, at 12:30 a. m. yesterday. The loss, including that of three automobiles stored at the station, was estimated at $10,000.

Five fire companies from East St. Louis answered the alarm, but the blaze, which started in the filling station, was beyond control when they arrived. Both structures were owned by Harry Kramer, of 4000 Bond avenue, a grocer. His loss was placed at $7500, partially covered by insurance. Two of the automobiles were the property of Herman Hammerman, who operated the filling station. George Schwartz, who occupied the dwelling, was absent with his family at the time.

INVITES GUESTS TO DINNER, LEAVES TABLE AND ENDS LIFE

Husband and Children Look On as New York Woman Shoots Herself.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, March 6.—Leaving the dinner table, where her husband, three small children and half a dozen relatives sat late night, Mrs. Madeline Ferrugia, wife of a prosperous builder, stood in the doorway of the dining room of her home and killed herself with a revolver.

Mrs. Ferrugia, 33 years old, had invited her relatives and prepared an unusually good dinner. The revolver was concealed in her dress. Ferrugia said she had no idea where her wife got the revolver or why she would want to kill herself.

CYCLONE SWEEPS REUNION

ISLAND, STEAMERS MISSING

Scene of Abd-el-Krim's Exile Menaced by Second Violent Storm Since Thursday.

By the Associated Press.
ST. DENIS, Reunion Island, March 7.—A new cyclone of great intensity following that of last Thursday is menacing this island today. Reunion Island is Abd-el-Krim's place of exile.

It was feared the new cyclone had swept over the island of Madagascar, where there were many deaths and extensive property damage in last week's cyclone. Several small steamers due here are missing today. It was feared that the steamer Sainte Anne, from Madagascar, has been lost with all aboard.

By the Associated Press.
CAPE TOWN, South Africa, March 7.—An official dispatch from Tamatave, Madagascar, today says earlier reports regarding the casualties in last week's cyclone were exaggerated and that the number dead will not exceed 30.

The town of Tamatave, however, was devastated by a tidal wave which accompanied the storm and caused great damage among the shipping in the port.

NEW DISCUSSIONS LEADING TO MORE CRUISER BUILDING

Britain Insists 40 Ships of Class Are Her Minimum—Wants U. S. and Japan to Meet 5-5-3 Scale.

COOLIDGE PLAN PUT ON THE SHELF

Conference Probably Will Be Held at Geneva in July Follow Informal Exchanges.

By JOHN L. BALDERSTON, London Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.
Copyright 1927, by the Press and Publisher Publishing Co., (New York World and Post-Dispatch)
LONDON, March 7.—Informal conversations are proceeding among the United States, Great Britain and Japan for a new naval disarmament conference on a different line from the proposals laid down in President Coolidge's recent memorandum to the Powers.

These have progressed so far that it can be stated that a conference probably will be held in Geneva in July, with delegates specially selected for the purpose. Mr. Coolidge's suggestion for an early conference in which the delegates to the League of Nations preparatory disarmament conference should represent their countries has been shelved. The position was changed by the refusal of France and Italy to participate, followed by the ambiguous hint in the British acceptance of the President's invitation that the factors surrounding the league conference must be taken into account.

Further, informal exchanges have developed that Great Britain and Japan are averse to permitting their present delegates to the league conference to represent them at the new meeting.

Three Power Conference.
A three-power conference now may be regarded as a certainty unless the Coolidge administration finds some pretext for withdrawing its invitations or postponing the meeting. There is no sign as yet of American hesitation.

Discussion among Great Britain, the United States and Japan may have the immediate effect of causing more warships to be built. That is the first paradox of the situation.

The second paradox is that the British Admiralty, foreseeing this will be the case, welcomes the conference. This is because Admiral Beatty, the First Sea Lord, is anxious for an increase in United States cruiser strength, which, according to the British view, will be built up to the British level after the conference.

The British are at a loss to account for the motives that led the United States to urge a conference which can have only this outcome. Indeed, the British intended to make a similar suggestion in the near future. For some months they have been working on a scheme for it, but were doubtful until the Coolidge proposal took them by surprise.

Britain Wants More Cruisers.
The United States has suggested a 5-5-3 ratio for cruisers—the same as the Washington treaty set for battleships. This must be the principal item on the agenda, since the submarine program cannot be grappled with in the absence of France and Italy.

The British are prepared to respond to the American invitation for the 5-5-3 ratio by stating the number of new "treaty cruisers" (10,000 tons is the limit size set by the Washington agreement) which they believe indispensable to the safety of British sea communications. Admiral Beatty will announce that England is building 14 new "treaty class" cruisers and will build nine more during the period ending with the fiscal year 1929.

Great Britain now has 40 modern cruisers with speeds of 27 knots or more.

The British delegation will declare this is a minimum. It will not be reduced. At the same time, the British will explain their reasons for insisting on such a large force. They then will cordially invite the United States and Japan to build up to the 5-5-3 ratio.

U. S. Must Build or Fall Behind.
But to do this the United States will have to build 30 new cruisers and Japan 13.

miralty. This pledge England is willing to give.
Five and a half years ago, when the Washington conference was called, the United States had a program of battleships under construction to bargain with and the British were most anxious that this program be curtailed, as Britain could not afford naval rivalry in this class with the United States.

Future Activity in Pacific.
A startling change has occurred in the situation. Cruisers of the "treaty class" are not built primarily for fleet action. The British Admiralty, or at least Admiral Beatty, instead of seeking to cut down American building, hopes the conference will result in more United States cruisers.

The reason for this is that in Lord Beatty's view future naval activity will lie in the Pacific. Whatever happens there, whether Chinese trouble or more serious difficulties, the United States and Britain will be in accord, he is sure. According to that reasoning, the have just been announced. They more American cruisers the better. Japan, being limited to three-fifths of the American or British building, will be left behind as a result of the "limitation" conference, and this is not regarded here as undesirable.

Details concerning the Nelson and the Rodney, new battleships soon to be placed in commission, will be the most formidable fighters that ever sailed the seas. Each will carry nine 16-inch guns and 12 6-inch, and will be the first battleships to have geared turbines, which will give them 45,000 horse power and a speed of 23 knots. The two ships will be able to fire broadsides greater than any others afloat.

WOMEN'S RIGHTS FIND WAY INTO LEAGUE MEETING

Plea for Their Representation on the Health Committee Presented by Austen Chamberlain.

44TH SESSION OF THE COUNCIL OPENS

Poland to Urge Pact With Russia, China Not to Raise Any Questions at This Time.

By the Associated Press.

GENEVA, March 7.—The first public meeting of the forty-fourth session of the League of Nations Council was opened at 11:45 o'clock this morning under the presidency of Dr. Gustav Stresemann, the German Foreign Minister.

The Associated Press learns that Poland hopes to push negotiations with Russia for a guarantee pact similar to that of Locarno. These negotiations have not succeeded thus far because Russia is insisting that the Polish promise neutrality in the event that Russia should go to war with another Power. This Poland has rejected as a violation of the League covenant.

Women's rights blazed their way into the meeting today when Sir Austen Chamberlain, backed by Dr. Benes of Czechoslovakia, protested that women had insufficient representation in the League's Health Committee.

Argument for Women.

Alluding to Dr. Alice Hamilton of Harvard, the British Foreign Secretary pointed out that there was only one woman on the Health Committee and that she was there merely in an advisory capacity, with no right to vote. This, he said, constituted a grave failure to recognize the ability of women, who certainly were in a position to contribute greatly to the cause of international health.

The Council referred the complaint to the Health Committee and it is probable that favorable action will be taken on it.

Another protest came from Francisco Jose Urrutia of Colombia, who criticized the decision not to include any health expert from Latin America among the list of those recently added with understanding that they would have full rights as members. Senator Urrutia landed Latin America's contribution to medical science and said it was a pity it was not recognized. This question also was referred to the Health Committee, with the probability that the list would be adjusted in a manner to satisfy Latin America.

The meeting today was marked by a new insistence by the Germans upon the use of the Teutonic League in the Geneva deliberations. It had been expected that Dr. Stresemann would use either English or French, the two languages authorized by the League covenant. Instead, he employed German, and each sentence was immediately translated by his own interpreter. This procedure is permissible but strengthened the impression that Berlin would seek to have German recognized as a quasi official language of the League.

China Not to Raise Any Issue. Dashing into the League of Nations palace late for the private session of the Council this morning, Chu Chao-Hain distributed a statement declaring that China would not raise the Chinese question in the Council.

"Our attitude," the statement read, "is conciliatory, and our demands are most legitimate, since we have nothing to ask for but noninterference with our sovereignty and territorial integrity."

Chu said he was instructed by Premier Wellington Koo in Peking to notify Sir Eric Drummond, the League's Secretary-General, that the Chinese (Peking) Government reserved the right to answer the British statement submitted to the League on Feb. 8. He did not know whether an answer would be sent by mail by way of Siberia, had yet reached Peking, and up to the present he had received no fresh instructions from Dr. Koo.

Chu's statement was interpreted to mean that Peking still holds protest to the League up in case there as a card to play in her emergency.

such contagions of "critical opinion" can have, no more significance than the prevalence of any going ditty that is whistled and hummed and warbled simply because "they" are doing it.

The present writer lived long in contact with the Winnebagoes and their neighbors, the Omahas. Also, he is acquainted with other plains tribes. The value of Crashing Thunder's autobiography as a revelation of the "Indian consciousness" is not a matter of opinion, but of knowledge which these critics lack.

THE TRIAL OF JESUS, by George W. Thompson. (Bobbs-Merrill Co.)

M. THOMPSON, who is professor of law in the University of Florida, has studied the legal aspects of the trial of Jesus for many years. Here he gives a painstaking analysis of the legal procedure involved, by way of showing that under the Jewish law the trial was a farce; that the Roman law Pilate twice exonerated the accused and weakly allowed his judgment to be reversed by the howling mob. The case appears to be well argued by Thompson, and many will be interested in his clear view of that tragic event. Others may feel that such argument is beside the point. In the first place, it is hard for us now to realize that the Nazarene seemed no better than a beggarly and rabid red to the eyes of his day, who could not get his message. His fate was the common fate of all higher values in conflict with the lower; and in the very nature of such a conflict there can be no fairness; for fairness must grow out of understanding. Jesus himself knew well that it was not deliberate villainy that had actuated his persecutors. They just didn't know. "Forgive them, for they know not what they do."

"But," someone may object, as Mr. Thompson would, "they could at least have been true to their own laws." Nevertheless, when a man thinks he is fighting a dangerous monster, he will not stick to Queensbury rules.

WAR - PATRIOTISM - PEACE, by Leo Tolstoy. (Vanguard Press, Inc., New York.)

War, says Tolstoy, is unchristian, brutalizing and vile. Patriotism, says Tolstoy, is in our time an unnatural, irrational, harmful sentiment, which causes the greater part of those calamities from which humanity suffers.

In this little book of essays Tolstoy, the great Russian writer and preacher of living based on Christian principles, lines up an accumulation of argument in condemnation of war, which is fanned into flame by the interests of a few, kept violent through ignorance, deception, hatred, and results in the misery of millions of innocent men and women.

Tolstoy died in 1910, but with a prophetic vision, he foresaw the carnage in the World War of 1914, of the forces of destruction closing over Europe.

"DADDY LONG LEGS" STANDS UP AGAIN AT EMPRESS

National Players Do Effective Work on Ruth Chatterton's Old Vehicle.

"Daddy Long Legs," a somewhat stale sugarplum, is the piece on view at the Empress this week. Jean Webster wrote it, and some 10 or so seasons ago Ruth Chatterton appeared in it with considerable success. Director O. D. Woodward of the National Players has presented it at least once before in St. Louis. But for all its age and saccharinity, this plot of Cinderella humbug is surprisingly good theater, effective with those who react from the heart rather than the head.

But what is more remarkable is the sure and certain, smooth-running performance. Don Burroughs, leading man, and Hazel Whitmore, first woman, quite outdo themselves in difficult roles. J. Raymond Brown appears in a new style of make-up, undeniably striking, and there are sizeable parts for a number of others.

The story, as must be known by now, is about the poor little orphan girl whom a millionaire adopts and finally marries. Believe it if you can.

WOMEN SOLOISTS PLEASE "POP" CONCERT AUDIENCE

Dorothy Jackes and Corinne Frederick Heard in Field House at Washington University.

Dorothy Jackes soprano and Corinne Frederick, pianiste were the featured soloists at the "Pop" concert of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra which was held yesterday afternoon in the Field House of Washington University. Though the wide open spaces of that auditorium are hardly ideal for any sort of program on a normal scale both soloists played with considerable effect.

Miss Frederick's appearance at the piano had an additional interest by virtue of the fact that she was playing the "Concertstueck" composed by Rudolph Ganz for piano and orchestra. This composition dates back to 1901 but its rhythms are so distinctly modern in character that they suggest the influences of post-war psychology.

Miss Jackes' chief number of the afternoon was the "More Regal in His Low Estate" from the Queen of Sheba.

AL HALL'S SURPRISE IS TREAT AT ORPHEUM

Former Half-Way Comedian Turns Star, Sharing Honors With Ida May Chadwick.

THE surprise treat of many a season for regular vaudevillegoers is witnessed this week at the Orpheum Theater in the sudden transformation of Al Hall, in past seasons a halfway entertaining comedian, who didn't seem to threaten ever to become a headliner, into one of the most convincing topnotchers of the variety stage. Coupled with that fact is the presence of a favorite of many seasons, Ida May Chadwick, tap dancer extraordinary, and her company of a half dozen assistants. The manner in which Hall stamped yesterday's opening crowds detracted none whatever from the pleasure and entertainment provided by Miss Chadwick and her aids.

Hall, who might well drop that middle initial that went only with the sort of stuff he used to fail to put over convincingly and who is capably assisted by Genevieve Blair, Helen Ardell and Morris Lloyd, clowns pleasingly all over the place. He and one of the young women offer the cleverest, comedy dance vaudeville has known in a long time. Walter Brower's monologue is breezy; Jones and Rea offer a comedy sketch in which they might well sing more and patter less; Herma and Juan Reyes play the violin and piano, respectively—if they'd only move the piano out of the middle of the street (drop curtain), and Margaret Stewart does artistic poses. The feature picture, "One Hour of Love," with Jacqueline Logan, Robert Frazer and Mildred Harris, is a good one.

HAWAII RESENTS BEING CALLED "POSSESSION"

Americanized Before California Ceased to Be Mexican State, Is Its Boast.

By ROBERT T. SMALL,
A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

HONOLULU, March 7.—Rather deep resentment is found here over a recent decision of the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission that Hawaii could not be considered a part of the United States but a possession. Efforts had been made to obtain a medal for a Japanese Hawaiian boy, Saburo Shishido, for a daring sea rescue, but the reward was refused because:
"Mr. Carnegie restricted the field of our operations to the United States of America, the Dominion of Canada, the Colony of Newfoundland and waters thereof, which the commission has construed to be continental North American above the Mexican boundary, in which, of course, Hawaii, a possession of the United States, is not included." That was what the fund commission wrote.

Legislature May Act.
The Territorial Legislature of Hawaii is holding its biennial session and a movement is under way to have it call the official attention of the hero fund commission to the fact that Hawaii is Federal territory and just as much an integral part of the United States as the Federal Union of commonwealths as Pennsylvania. Hawaiians have grown tired of hearing their islands called a possession of the United States, but they recognize the fact that most residents of the mainland seem to consider the islands in that light.

Hawaii pays more income taxes into the Federal Treasury at Washington than 12 or 13 of the states of the Union. Hawaiians also delight in calling attention to the fact that these islands were virtually a New England community, with American traditions a score of years before California emerged from the status of a "possession" of Mexico.

American From 100 Years Old.
New Englanders came here in 1820 and established American schools and churches, while California remained a Mexican possession until 1848. Hawaii also boasts that an American firm in this city last year celebrated its hundredth anniversary. The firm in question is C. Brewer & Co., Ltd., established by James Hunnewell of Boston. Hunnewell first came to the islands in 1817 as an officer on a Yankee clipper and collected obligations due American traders in sandalwood. That was the first trading commodity found in the islands. It was not 1826 that Hunnewell established the trading post which became C. Brewer & Co. Hunnewell's first partner was another New Englander, Henry A. Pearce, but later Captain Charles Brewer came out from Boston as an ordinary seaman on the ship Paragon. The Brewer Co. today is one of the biggest firms in the islands, handling sugar from 12 plantations and engaging in other mercantile pursuits.

Gov. Farrington in a message to the present session of the Legislature said:

"American citizens making up the territory of Hawaii should never allow themselves to be thrown into a conglomerate bundle of 'possessions' that have neither American traditions like those of Hawaii or a background of independence that gives their population an appreciation of the dignity and responsibility of full membership in the American Union of states."

900 IN ATTENDANCE AT EGG AND POULTRY CONVENTION

Missourians Informed That Chickens Save 60 Per Cent of Farmers From Bankruptcy.

Sixty per cent of Missouri farmers would be bankrupt if it were not for the productivity of their poultry, according to A. W. Vanderford of Clinton, Mo., president of the Missouri Egg and Poultry Association, which is meeting today at Hotel Statler. About 900 members are attending the convention, which will be ended tomorrow.

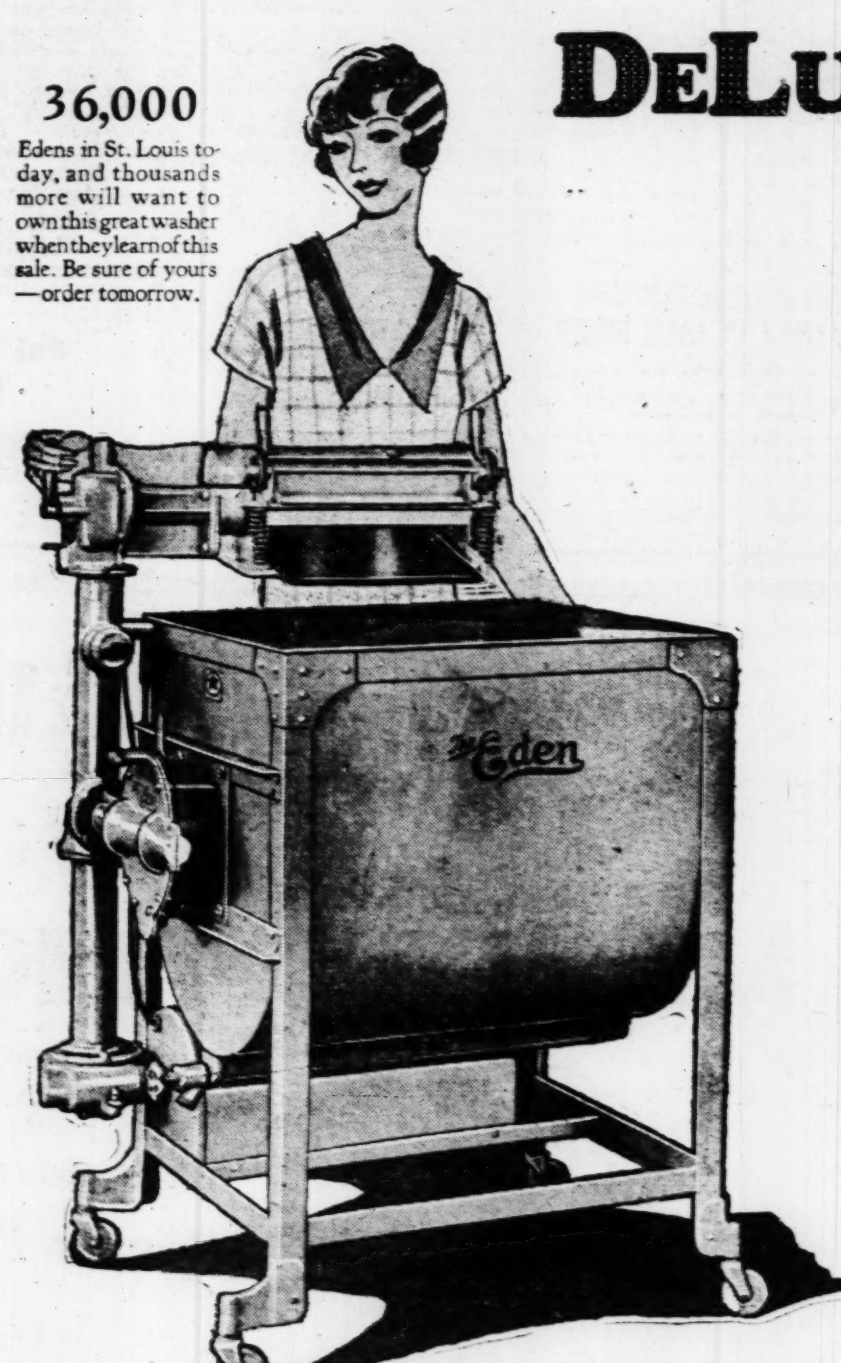

"If the Missouri farmer did not make up the amount he loses in grain and general farming through his chickens, 60 per cent of them would be broke," Vanderford said. "Chickens are what keep the farmer riding in an automobile. They are slight expense since they forage for, and obtain most of their food. All the farmer has to do is to collect the eggs and sell them to an attractive market."

Vanderford, although he asserts chickens solve the problem for the farmer, thinks that the city dweller, indulging in the dream of a poultry farm far from smoke and noise, and of the profits in a venture which he imagines, requires little ability or effort, is indulging in folly. "It takes experience," he said, "and what comes easy for the farmer, will come hard for the city man. He will only lose money if he tries. Anyway the market is overcrowded now."

UTILITIES SEEKING TO NULLIFY CITIES' FRANCHISE POWER

Bills Introduced at Jefferson City Would Transfer Authority to State Commission.

AIM TO ESTABLISH PERPETUAL GRANTS

Street Railways Excepted in Pending Measures Unless Municipality Gives Its Consent.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 7.— Public utilities of Missouri are seeking to establish the indeterminate franchise in the State, virtually removing the franchising of utilities from the control of cities and lodging it with the Public Service Commission. In effect, the move would nullify the power of cities to grant franchises for a fixed period and would subordinate franchises which are virtually perpetual.

The bills, brought here by representatives of the Missouri Association of Public Utilities, attracted little attention until a few days ago when a duplicate of a House bill, offered by Representative Hunter of Moberly, was introduced in the Senate by Senator Brown of Poplar Bluff. The House bill has passed beyond the committee stage and is on the calendar of bills for en-grossment.

The bills provide that hereafter any franchise granted by a municipality shall be of the indeterminate variety and further provides that any utility now operating under a franchise may surrender it to the Missouri Public Service Commission and receive in return an indeterminate franchise.

One exception is made. Street railways may not surrender their present franchises unless the affected municipality gives consent.
Telephone companies are excluded from the provisions of the bills.

Any utility which accepts an indeterminate franchise thereby gives formal consent to purchase by the city if the city desires, the bills stipulate. If the city and company cannot agree on the price,
the Public Service Commission valuation becomes the purchase price.

Utilities throughout the country generally have supported and pressed for the indeterminate franchise. It removes them from the effect of political whim. Once franchised, always entrenched, is their effect.

The immediate benefit which the utilities assert is that the indeterminate franchise permits them to borrow money at a lower rate of interest than a franchise limited to 20 years, the limit fixed by law in Missouri, or any other fixed term.

SPORT VICTORIES IN BRITISH COLLEGES COUNT FOR LITTLE
Carnegie Research Staff Turns Its Attention to American University Athletics.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 7.—At all British universities sport is essentially casual and, while personal athletic prowess is highly esteemed, the reputation which victories can bring to institutions counts for comparatively little, according to Dr. Howard J. Savage, staff member of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.

Dr. Savage, who passed several months in Great Britain gathering material for what is said to be the first American descriptive study of athletics in British educational institutions, says the Foundation is at present engaged in a study of American school, college and university athletics. Most comparative considerations, accordingly, have been deferred in the present study.

"Very few persons," he said,
"are dependent upon British school, college or university sport for their livelihood, and no such person, whether coach or trainer, depends upon victory for his living."

"Few persons know that at Oxford and Cambridge there are professional coaches in cricket, track and field sports, and boxing.
Coaching in rowing, 'rugger,' 'soccer,' field, hockey and other games is in the hands of undergraduates, staff members and a few unpaid graduates."

What to Do when they're Green at the Tips

DOCTORS and dietitians will tell you that the fully ripe banana is one of the most easily digested foods you can eat.
Sometimes the bananas you buy may not be fully ripe. To ripen these bananas just place them in a warm room.

The tips will soon turn from green to yellow. The golden skin will fleck with brown. And the starches of the banana pulp will change into natural sugars that give the banana its delightful, delicate flavor—and make it so easy to digest.

Ripen some Unifruit Bananas this simple way. Then take a little bite—or a great big bite—um-mm-m—it melts in your mouth!

A Million More People in the L&N-Served South

More people, more prosperity—that's the story of the Central South's great development during the past few years. Over a million and a half new citizens in the States of Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Louisiana, Florida—people who have come to these States from every section of the country—people who have come to make their homes and to take an active part in community building.

The railroads are very largely responsible for bringing new citizens to this vicinity. Through Northern and Eastern newspapers, through national farm journals, through magazines of enormous circulation and through the distribution of folders and printed matter, the L. & N. is constantly, and has been for years, advertising the agricultural, the industrial and the tourist attractions of these States.

Latest estimates of population show that since the 1920 census, the States above listed have an increased population of 1,635,228 and that this increase is above the average of any other section of the United States.

The furnishing of superior freight and passenger service and the up-building of the territory it serves, are the provinces of this Railroad.

...a New Thrill!

Right in your own home you'll soon get your chance to see the wonderful New Easy wash and dry your clothes at the same time

DOES it sound too good to be true—your clothes washed and damp-dried at the same time, the water handled for you, and the whole wash on the line in half the time, without a single button to be sewed on, and without deep wrinkles that are hard to iron out?

Well, you can see it all happen with your own eyes, right in your own home, without one cent of cost. We will lend you a New Easy and let you do your week's washing free. We have done this for thousands of other women and we will do it for you. Only in that way can you appreciate the wonders of this amazing machine.

Two tubs—one washes while the other dries. While one big batch of clothes is washing in the New Easy, another big batch is damp-dried ready to be hung out. Sixteen double sheets (or the equal in other clothes) are handled at one time; two things are done at once. Is it any wonder that the New Easy cuts time in half? And yet, if you did all the work with your own hands from start to finish, you couldn't wash the clothes any more safely than the famous Easy Vacuum Cups, or damp-dry them any more gently than the wonderful new Easy dryer.

Wash-day is made so easy

The New Easy is so simple to operate. All you do is press a button and move a lever. The work it saves you is simply marvelous.

Even the water is handled for you in the New Easy. As the suds, the rinse and the bluing water are removed from the clothes in the dryer, each in turn runs back into the proper tub. You never have to heat up extra water, for a special gas heater beneath the Easy keeps the water hot all through the washing. And when finished washing, the machine even empties itself.

Your next washing FREE—act today

All these conveniences, and more, you will find in the New Easy. But you must see them to appreciate them. That's why we make you this remarkable offer and will lend you a New Easy to do your week's washing. Don't wait—phone the nearest Easy dealer at once, or write us, and next washday the Easy will be in your home. If you wish to keep it, you can make a small down payment and the Easy stays right there.

DYNAMITER SLAIN IN POLICE AMBUSH AT CHURCH DOOR

Shot Down in Fifth Attempt to Bomb Catholic Building in San Francisco Latin Quarter.

ALLEGED AID SHOT, DENIES IMPLICATION

Fired On as He Reaches Toward Hip, for Bible, Not Revolver — Declares He Had Come to Pray.

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—Police today began to look for higher-ups in their effort to find a motive for the latest attempt to bomb the Catholic Church of St. Peter and Paul, in the Latin Quarter here yesterday, in the fifth attempt in a little more than a year, one man was shot to death in a police trap after he had tossed a bomb in at the church door, and an alleged accomplice was arrested.

While two officers fired at the fleeing men, one of whom was killed and the other wounded and captured, another officer picked up the bomb, which was made of 25 sticks of dynamite, and extinguished the fuse.

The four previous attempted bombings resulted in considerable damage, but no loss of life. So far police think the bombings were the work of fanatics.

Prisoner Had Bible, Not Pistol.

The wounded man, Charles Moss, alias Celestin Ecklund, disclaimed all connection with the attempt to destroy the church, saying he had come to pray and was not with the man who was killed. Ecklund was shot when he reached for his hip pocket. A policeman fired and he dropped with a charge of heavy shot in his leg. It developed that he had been attempting to pull a Bible, and not a revolver, from his pocket.

Detectives had laid an elaborate trap for the dynamiters. For several weeks seven policemen were stationed inside the church, and two in a window across the street, while a tenth, regularly guarding the church, paraded back and forth in front. The tenth man feigned weariness as dawn approached and went inside the church as if to sleep.

Two men approached, one on each side of the street. The unidentified man dropped the elaborately prepared bomb inside the church entrance and fled when the officers ordered him to halt. Two shots killed him instantly.

The body has not been identified positively. Police surmised, following identification of the dead bomber's revolver as one sold by a pawnbroker to G. Ricci, that the body might be that of Gaetano Ricci, arrested in Oakland in 1922 during the Southern Pacific strike. Mrs. Adele Motroni of Sacramento identified the body as that of a man who had three times tried to bomb her house in that city, and Manuel Alvarez of San Francisco, identified it as that of a fanatic street preacher.

NEW RAIL CONSOLIDATION BILL

Measure Designed to Set Aside Limitations of State Laws.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Hope that railroads of the country eventually could be welded into 20 or 30 strong systems "sharply competing within the territory served," is expressed by Representative Hoch (Rep.), Kansas, in a statement commenting on the railroad consolidation bill drafted by the House Commerce Committee, of which he is a member.

The measure, which will be pressed for enactment in the next Congress, he adds, was designed to set aside the limitations of State laws where such would be necessary to carry out a consolidation program.

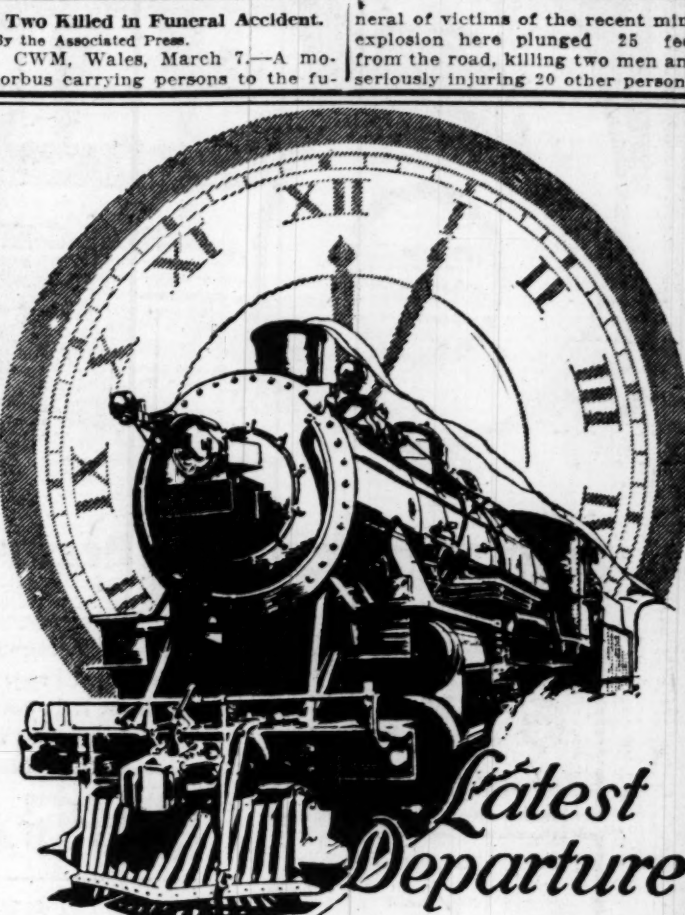

MOTHER GIVES LIFE IN VAIN

Killed by Train Trying to Save Baby, 4, d Dies.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 7.—Mrs. Mary A. Long's sacrifice of her own life to save that of her 2-year-old daughter, Jessie, by throwing herself in front of a fast freight train, proved of no avail. Mrs. Long leaped on the track when the child attempted to cross. As she hurried the baby to one side, the mother was killed. The pilot of the locomotive struck the child, fracturing its skull, and death came yesterday.

Two Children Lose Lives in Fire.

PLINT, Mich., March 7.—Two children were burned to death and four persons injured when fire destroyed the home of John Lukas, Joseph, 6 years old, and Frances, 2, lost their lives, and Lukas, his wife and two daughters, were removed to a hospital in a serious condition.

SAVED AFTER HANGING 24 HOURS OVER CLIFF

Friend Crushes Hand Between Rope and Rock Till Help Arrives.

By the Associated Press.
CAPE TOWN, South Africa,
March 7.—John Byng, an inexperienced mountain climber, while attempting to establish a new route up the face of Table Mountain, saved the life of his companion, Frank Cooke, an experienced mountain man of Capetown. The two were roped together. After they had ascended 1000 feet, Cooke fell, but Byng snubbed the rope around a rock, placing his hand between the rope and the rock so that the hand acted as a buffer and prevented the rope from fraying and snapping.

Byng's hand was crushed and cut, but hour after hour he endured the pain and kept the rope in position. Cooke, suspended over a gorge hundreds of feet deep, was helpless. His thigh had been broken in his fall.

By waving his free hand and shouting, Byng finally attracted attention. The rescue party found Byng on point of collapse. To rescue Cooke two men descended to him with food and restoratives.
They blindfolded him and hauled him up after 24 hours in midair.

Deductions in Income Tax for Auto Owners

Registration Fees, State and City Property Taxes, Gasoline Tax and Interest May be Charged Off.

Special in the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, March 7.—Automobile owners can legitimately make deductions from gross income tax in filing their returns this year because of ownership and operation, according to the American Automobile Association.

Car owners may deduct from gross income all sums paid during the year 1926 in the form of registration fees, drivers' licenses, state personal property taxes and municipal taxes, the association said.
The gasoline tax may be deducted in all cases where it is a consumer's tax; interest on money borrowed for purchase of a car is deductible and the amounts paid as occupational taxes to the Federal Government by operators of vehicles for hire are also deductible.
Passenger car owners, using the vehicle wholly for business purposes, can deduct expenses incident to maintenance, operation and depreciation.
Expenses incident to operating an automobile for pleasure and depreciation of this type of machine are not deductible.

MELLON'S DEMURRER UPHELD IN $500,000 LIBEL SUIT

Official Acts Cannot Be Basis for Damages Against Him Personally, Decision.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 7.—Secretary Mellon won a decision in the District of Columbia Court of Appeals today sustaining his demurrer against the $500,000 libel suit brought against him by Charles B. Brewer, former Assistant Attorney-General. The libel was based on a letter written by Secretary Mellon to President Coolidge concerning charges of duplication of Liberty bonds in the Bureau of Engraving.
The Appellate Court reversed a lower court which had held against Mellon's contention that the communication was privileged, and that the Secretary could not be held personally responsible. The case was remanded for further proceedings.

"It would seriously cripple the proper and effective administration of public affairs," said Justice Robb in the Appeals Court opinion. "If the head of an executive department, exercising the functions of his office and keeping within the limits of his authority, should be under an apprehension that the motives controlling his official conduct might at any time become the subject of inquiry in a civil suit for damages. If he acts, having authority, his conduct cannot be made the foundation of a suit for damages against him personally."

BODY OF MAN MISSING SINCE FEB. 19 FOUND IN POND

Riley Bridges, 59, a Painter, Disappeared After Telephoning to His Wife: Pay in His Pockets.

The body of Riley Bridges, 58 years old, who disappeared from his home at 1415 Forest place, East St. Louis, Feb. 19, last, was found yesterday in a shallow drainage pond on Twenty-third street, Fairmount City.

Bridges, who was a painter, telephoned his wife the afternoon of his disappearance that he was on his way home with his pay envelope. Members of his union told police that he had spent the afternoon drinking in a Collinsville avenue saloon and was sent home in a taxi cab. He alighted from the cab near his home and, according to the driver, turned and walked in the direction of the pond, a quarter of a mile away. No marks of violence were on the body. His pay, amounting to $25, and his watch, were in his pocket. An inquest will be held today.

STOLEN FLOUR LEAVES TRAIL

Policeman Follows It and Arrests Negro in Shed.

Twelve sacks of flour and other groceries were stolen early yesterday from the store of Eli Holzman, 1300 Carr street. Patrolman Baumann followed a trail of flour to a shed at 2025 Biddle street, where he recovered the groceries and arrested a visitor, Lucius Jackson, 23, a Negro, whose clothes were streaked with flour.

Jackson denied stealing the groceries, but his host assured police Jackson had brought the loot to the shed. Jackson, a former Bonville reformatory inmate, is out on bond for attempted larceny on Aug. 23.

Child Killed by Father's Auto.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 7.—Leslie Penrose crushed his 3-year-old son, Leroy, to death when he backed his automobile over the child's body. The Penrose family was leaving church and the boy broke away from his mother to run to his father's car. As the child passed behind the automobile, Penrose, not knowing of the child's approach, backed the machine into the road. The rear wheel of the car passed over the child's body.

Ousted Mayor to Run Again.
KANSAS CITY, Kan., March 7.—W. W. Gordon, who resigned as Mayor last September, last night announced he would seek the office again. The primary will be held March 28. Gordon's entry brought the list of candidates to five. Gordon resigned after the State Supreme Court had suspended him following the hearing of an ouster suit on graft charges. He said the cost of a defense was more than he could afford.

"WAGE EARNER 28 PER CENT BETTER OFF THAN IN 1914"

His Pay Advanced 50 Per Cent Above Increase in Living Cost, Industrial Board Says.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, March 7.—The wage earner today is 28 per cent better off than he was before the World War.
A wage advance of 50 per cent beyond the increase in the cost of living since 1914, and the purchasing power of the dollar, stabilized at 60 cents as compared with the 1914 pre-war dollar, accounts for the gain, the National Industrial Conference Board announces today.

The purchasing power of the dollar has fluctuated little more than 5 per cent during the last five years. The average cost of living during 1926 was 1.8 per cent lower than in 1925, but in January, 1927, was still 66 per cent higher than in 1914. Average weekly earnings in January were 116 per cent higher than in 1914.

ELECTRICITY IS CHEAP

IN ST. LOUIS!

Does it Work For You ?

This Woman

pays only 5cents more a month for Electricity to do her washing

In the same size house, these two women I are making homes for their families. One uses electricity for lighting only. Each Monday she toils at the wash board, turns her wringer by hand, strains at heavy tubs. At the day's end she climbs the stairs much too tired to join the family circle.

Her Electric Bill is $1.26 per month. Her hard labor over the wash tub on four wash days has saved—only 5c worth of Electricity.

It is different next door where the home maker uses electricity to do her work as well as to light her house. She knows that after she has used enough electricity to cheerfully light her home, she buys Working Electricity at Wholesale Prices.

On Monday she clicks a switch and electricity carries the wash day burden—does the work better in half the time.

Her electric Bill is $1.31 per month. Electricity has done the four days of hard, wash-day labor—the cost? 5c worth of electricity—the price of a piece of soap.

In the average St. Louis and St. Louis County home—Working Electricity—electricity used by electrical appliances, costs only 2½ cents per kilowatt hour and a kilowatt hour will run a washing machine 5 hours, a vacuum cleaner 5½ hours, a sewing machine 17 hours or an electric fan 13 hours.

POSSE KILLS MANIC WHO SHOT TWO DEAD

Third Victim of Pennsylvanian, Who Fought Six Hours in Barricade, May Die.

By the Associated Press.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., March 7.—

Three men are dead, and two others were wounded today as a result of a six-hour attempt by a posse to capture John Bruno, 50 years old, known to be demented, after Bruno had barricaded himself in his home at Beaver Dale, near here, late yesterday.

The affray ended only when a bullet fired by one of the possemen, posted in a church across the street from the besieged house, struck Bruno beneath the heart, mortally wounding him.

Before he fell, Bruno had shot and killed Max Miller, 35, of Beaver Dale, fatally wounded John Libertine, 34, also of Beaver Dale, and wounded two others less seriously.

A case of mistaken identity led to the shootings. Late yesterday Walter Coleman of Wilmore, drove into Beaver Dale on business and marked his car in front of Bruno's house. Mistaking Coleman for an officer, the demented man fired three times at him, but the bullets went wide. Coleman informed police and Constable Howard Plummer attempted to enter Bruno's home and arrest him. Two bullets dropped Plummer, seriously wounded.

Miller was shot dead at the steering wheel of Plummer's car which he was attempting to drive away. Going of Miller's assistance, Libertine was the next victim of Bruno's rage. He died in a local hospital today. The fourth victim, who was wounded in the thigh, is County detective and deputies surrounded the slayer's house. Possemen stationed at various points, including the United Brethren Church across the street, poured a steady fire into the house. After six hours, Bruno's return fire ceased. Police battered down a door and found Bruno shot to death by one of the posse bullets on a cot on the second floor.

SIGHTSEEING TOURISTS JOIN

NEW GOLD RUSH IN NEVADA

Land Surrounding Bonanza, Discovered by Two Yoles, Staked Out Six Miles Around.

By the Associated Press.

TONOPAH, Nev., March 7.—

Visions of golden fortunes danced in the heads of tenderfoot and sourdoughs alike here today as the Weepas gold rush metamorphosed from a sightseeing affair to a serious hunt for claims.

Week-end crowds and lanky claimants had their turn yesterday when several hundred persons motored to the scene of the strike, which was made last week by two 19-year-old boys, Frank Horton Jr. and Frank Traylor, sons of prospectors. The boys brought in two sacks of gold ore which assayed $75,000 a ton.

Some of the claimants who had sunk their stakes first and waited until later to ask questions, discovered that they had camped on claims which were taken out some 20 years ago. Outside prospectors began to arrive yesterday, and by late afternoon the countryside around the Horton land, on which the rich strike was made, was staked for six miles in every direction.

Horton, who like many prospectors, once gained and lost a fortune in the game of gold, is planning to make another "pile." The land on which the strike was made was sold under judgment six months ago with the privilege of redemption.

MISSOURI GIRLS DRAW

LAUGH FROM COOLIDGE

Ditty About Jim Reed and G. O. P. Evokes Presidential

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

COLUMBIA, Mo., March 7.—

Miss Jane and Miss Virginia Rodgers, former students in the University of Missouri, whose home is at Mexico, Mo., succeeded in making President Coolidge not only smile, but also laugh, when they presented a musical program before the annual meeting of the White House Press Correspondents' Association recently.

President Coolidge and Senator James A. Reed were in the audience when the girls gave their song on "Current Politics, Nicaragua and What Not."

The final verse, which follows, produced laughs from the President and beams of pleasure from Senator Reed:

Now singing for the President is an honor and delight, But I never saw so many Republicans in my life. Perhaps we shouldn't mention it, But here are the facts: We're both from Missouri And Jim Reed, Democrats.

K. K. K. CONDUCTS FUNERAL

About 150 members of the Ku Klux Klan conducted funeral services for Charles Geibel, East St. Louis politician who was killed by a train last Tuesday at Lake Worth, Fla., before a large gathering at the State Street Methodist Episcopal Church in East St. Louis yesterday afternoon. Geibel was a member of the order.

The klansmen were in full regalia but only the two guards at the casket were masked. Members of the women's auxiliary of the klans sang "The Bright Field Cross" after the sermon. There were other ceremonies at the grave. Geibel resided at 2906 State street. He was visiting his daughter, Mrs. Jessie Neu, at Lantana, Fla., when he was killed.

"Katy Flyer" Fireman Tells Interesting Experience

Long hours and hard work in all weathers told on Mr. Bohon. Nervous indigestion almost wrecked his health. Now hale and husky. Gives Tanlac full credit.

"I had an uphill pull to regain my health," said Mr. Enoch Bohon, 520 E. 11th St., Sedalia, Mo. "Like all road men, I eat at irregular hours and I'm under a nervous strain all the time."

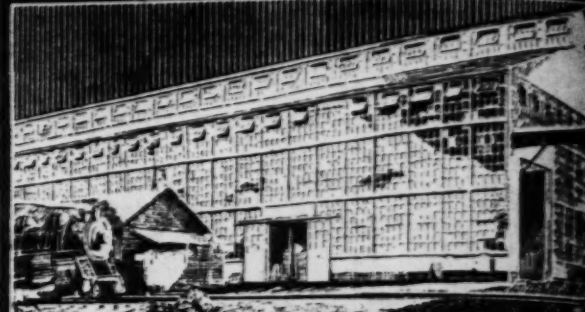

"First, my stomach went out of order. I had no appetite, and what little I forced myself to eat caused acute discomfort. Then my nerves got jumpy and I was irritable most of the time, had spells of depression and a feeling of being all in. Matters went from bad to worse, though I tried many medicines. Natural restful sleep was out of the question; I was too nervous and jumpy. That lasted a whole year."

"The first improvement came soon after I started on Tanlac. My appetite picked up and I began to enjoy restful sleep again. My digestion improved, too, so that I could eat anything I cared for and suffer no distress afterwards. In a short time I was as well and sound as ever in my life, and today I feel, eat and sleep normally. I've told many of my friends what Tanlac did for me and always recommend it with confidence."

Friends what Tanlac did for me and always recommend it with confidence.

If your health is shattered, you can profit from Mr. Bohon's experience. Over a hundred thousand letters are on file from all states in the Union, written by grateful friends whom Tanlac has helped. Who Manages the Standard Oil Company? (Indiana)

"A composite picture of the Board of Directors would show a striking preponderance of the type of man who has risen from the humblest position through sheer ability and has received what education he possesses from experience in the school of hard knocks rather than in academic circles."

The Literary Digest gives the above account of the men who manage the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

The Board of Directors of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is composed of ten members—

R. W. Stewart.....Chairman
E. G. Seubert.....President
W. M. Burton.....Director
Beaumont Parks.....Vice Pres., Gen. Mgr. Mfg.
Allan Jackson.....Vice President
R. H. McElroy.....Vice Pres., Traffic Manager
E. J. Bullock.....Vice Pres., Dir. of Purchases
John D. Clark.....Director
Amos Ball.....General Manager Sales
R. E. Humphreys.....Asst. Gen. Mgr. Mfg.

These men are elected by the stockholders of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) and to them is entrusted the management of the Company's business. They give their entire time, energy and devotion to the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) and to no other.

The ten men who have been chosen to direct the activities of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) have received their training largely within the organization.

They know their business "from the ground up." They have worked their way to positions of responsibility through conscientious, painstaking, industrious effort.

In no other way is promotion achieved in the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). Opportunities are open to all. Men are rising from the ranks constantly but their advancement always is due to personal achievement.

Success in this Company is attained only through hard work and marked ability. There are no easy jobs. Everybody works. In this shirt-sleeved organization, the higher a man's position, the greater must be his capacity for work.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has undertaken the important task of manufacturing and distributing to the thirty million people of the Middle West petroleum products of the highest quality at prices which always are reasonable and fair. This task demands hard work and the best brains that can be enlisted.

The Literary Digest, speaking of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), further says:—"It has been indeed a marvel of effective commercial organization."

The reason for its effectiveness lies in the earnestness of purpose binding its group of 29,573 employees into an efficient and united whole—an organization adequate to accomplish the high ideals of service held by the management of the

I used to think of Pluto Water only as a laxative to be used in times of emergency. Following the advice of my doctor, however, I commenced some time ago to take a small quantity each morning in a glass of hot water. Previously I had tried different so-called preventatives of constipation, but none of them gave the continued good results that Pluto Water has given. I cannot recommend it too highly.

WASH away constipation

Doctors proclaim the value of this better method

THIS fact will surely interest you.
It relates to a certain widely-used laxative. That laxative is Pluto Water.
Millions of people recognize the value of Pluto's reliable, quick action.
Yet few realize just why Pluto performs so efficiently. Doctors, knowing the reason, have prescribed Pluto Water for almost a generation. Here is what they know:

Pluto, being a water laxative, washes the intestines. It does not drug the system. It loosens, cleans and flushes the waste accumulations.
Its action is natural and harmless.

"But," you may ask, "if that is true, why will not ordinary drinking water have the same effect?" The answer is clearly understood by medical science. Ordinary water is quickly absorbed, and excreted by the kidneys.

Pluto Water, on the other hand, has a mineral content that exceeds the mineral content of the blood. Hence, Pluto is practically "absorption-proof." It passes intact through the stomach and intestines.

Gently, yet surely and quickly, Pluto Water flushes away the poisonous waste. Stubborn constipation is relieved in 30 minutes to two hours after drinking Pluto. Health is safeguarded. There is not the slightest gripping, and no habit-forming tendency. The action is pleasant, prompt and complete.

A small quantity of Pluto Water daily will keep you regular and in tip-top condition. And for emergency use, nothing else is so effective. Sold at all drug counters and at fountains. Bottled at the springs, French Lick, Ind.

Mythical Claims on Estates Enable Swindlers to Collect Millions From Supposed Heirs

Fraud Order Against Coate-Coppock Estate Corporation Recalls Anneke Jans Bogardus Suits and Many Others.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 7.—Mythical claims on estates are the means by which unprincipled swindlers prey millions yearly from the gullible.

The credulous are told by alleged agents of such estates as that of Sir Francis Drake, Anneke Jans Bogardus, Sir Hugh Musler and Joseph Wilson Ingraham, that for $25 or more they will get a proportionate share of untold millions. A profit of 1000 per cent is promised, and it is explained that the fees collected are used for court costs, lawyers and investigators.

Widows, disabled veterans and those of moderate means generally are selected as victims. Activities of the agents were once confined to persons having names similar to the estates they were supposed to be attempting to recover, but as the game progressed any one who had the money was a customer.

Investigators for Flint Grinnell, chief of the Chicago Better Business Bureau, found that a vice-president of a bank was interested in one of these schemes and promised the enormous returns for money invested, but was too clever to put his name to a receipt.

How the Trick Is Managed.
Probably the most picturesque of the propositions is that of Sir Francis Drake, supposed to have died in testate, leaving millions of dollars in English banks, as well as rich lands. Persons named Drake are informed by agents that they are entitled to a share of the estate and may contest for it on payment of a fee.

The same game is followed with other "estates" of which there are about 25 in the United States, totalling approximately $6,000,000,000, according to the promoters. Any of the bogus genealogists can provide a family tree proving the "heir" a direct descendant. It is not necessary to be actually in direct line. The genealogist attends to that. The field is unlimited, for, as the years roll on, the number of "heirs" increases.

Fraud Order Issued.

Postmaster-General Hunt has issued a fraud order denying the use of the mails to the Coate-Cop-pock Estate Corporation in Philadelphia. Horace J. Connelly, solicitor for the Postoffice Department, said that the enterprise was based on an alleged family tradition that the "Marmaduke estate" and one Moses Coppock "and others" owned about 1500 acres of Venango County land in Pennsylvania, 1800 acres in Chester County and 876 in Philadelphia, and July 23, 1816, these persons gave a 99-year lease to Caleb Mend-hall and others. Many "heirs" had been inveigled into paying money to the promoters of this scheme, Connelly said, by false representations of proof of the existence of the estate and prospects of its early recovery.

Most fabulous of the "stories of wealth is the one told "heirs" of Anneke Jans Bogardus, who was a resident of New Amsterdam in the latter part of the seventeenth century, when New York City was under Dutch rule. The properties claimed are the holdings of the Trinity Church Corporation, estimated to be worth more than $1-000,000,000, with an annual income of about $1,250,000. The claims to the Trinity holdings have been defeated so often by court decisions,

POLICE WITHOUT CLEW IN SHOOTING OF MAN FROM AUTO

Carroll Krepps, Wounded Four Times, Says He Was Standing at Street Corner When Fired on.

Police are without a theory to explain the shooting of Carroll Krepps, 1731 South Ninth street, who is at City Hospital suffering from gunshot wounds in the head, left arm, neck and body.

Krepps said he was standing at Eighth and Hickory streets early yesterday morning and was fired upon by someone in a curtained automobile which passed.
He was taken to City Hospital by a restaurant keeper in the vicinity.

Detectives found no one in the neighborhood who heard a shot.
They learned that a man resembling Krepps had been in a quarrel over a woman at Seventh and Rutger street recently. Krepps' friends said he may have been shot by mistake for someone else.

Some Recent Cases.
Several months ago the National Better Business Bureau explained
the early history of Wilmington, Del., because of stories which led some members of the Springer family to hopes which were regarded as unlikely to be realized.
There was a meeting recently at Dayton, O., of the Edwards family heirs. From Kansas City, Mo., came reports of another Anneke Jans Bogardus organization. In Cleveland, O., the bureau reported members of the Smith family required requests for contributions to a Smith memorial. Investigation showed the Smith who sent out the requests had lost interest in the scheme and was willing to return the money.

MEXICAN SOLDIERS EXECUTE SLAYER OF CIVIL ENGINEER

Julio Acosta, Who Shot Francisco
Betanza, Sugar Plant Receiver, Pursued and Killed.
By the Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, March 7.—Specialists from Vera Cruz say that Federal forces have captured and executed Julio Acosta, slayer of Francisco Betanza, Mexican engineer, who lived for a time in Brownsville, Tex.

Betanza was shot and killed Friday night at the La Gloria Sugar

Central, to which he had gone to take charge as receiver. He was accompanied to the plant by two Texas associates, R. B. Creager and Walter Dunn, but the latter had just left the place when the shooting occurred.

Former owners of the plant and his friends resented the coming of a receiver and shot at Betanza and a guard of soldiers who accompanied him when he took charge.

Bernardino Diaz, who is charged with implication in the killing, also was captured and placed in prison at Villa Carcel.

Feel Stiff and Achy?

If You Would Be Fit There Must Be Good Elimination of the Blood Impurities.

To feel constantly lame and achy is often indication of improper elimination. The kidneys are the blood filters.

Sluggish function, however, permits retention of waste poisons and is apt to make one languid, tired and achy, with dull headaches, dizziness and often a nagging headache.

Assist the kidneys with a stimulant diuretic. Since 1885 Doan's Pills have been winning friends the country over. Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. Gust Green, 1933
E. Walnut St., Des Moines, Iowa, says: "I was miserable with backache and knew my kidneys weren't acting right.
A friend recommended Doan's Pills and they helped me promptly. I have told hundreds about Doan's."

Carl W. Bartz, 526 Pine St., Owasco, Mich., says:
"I had reason to believe my kidneys weren't acting right because of the secretions.
Headaches were annoying, I was tired and without ambition and was bothered by a nagging backache. I tried Doan's Pills and they were prompt in helping me. It wasn't long before I felt like myself again."

Justice F. Shows Courage In Winning $25,000 Derby

Imported English Colt Finishes a Head in Front of Sir Harry Over Sloppy Track at Tijuana—Cotlogomor Scores in Secondary Feature.

By the Associated Press. TIJUANA, March 7.—In a race that would try the stamens of any race horse, W. Daniel's Justice F. won the Tijuana Derby here yesterday. In like manner, Seagram's Stable's Sir Harry, racing the winner to almost a standstill, finished a head behind Seagram Stable's Wandering Minstrel was third, eight lengths back.

In one of the rich set fixed events for 3-year-olds at one mile and one furlong, 10 turf stars here tried for the $25,000 prize to the winner. Of the $25,000 added money and fees, Justice F. was off in third place after four minutes delay at the post. The colt got into the lead at the quarter and continued a length ahead of the nearest horse until Sir Harry, coming from tenth at start, started second at the half. From then on the two raced together, increasing their lead from the rest of the contenders.

A length separated them until the stretch, where Sir Harry was but a head behind Justice F.

Both Colts Under Whip. In the heavy going, these two colts, under whip at every jump, wallowed unflinchingly until the line had been passed, with Justice F. still a head in advance of Sir Harry.

To the Seagram Stable, whose entry finished second and third, went $2500 for second and $1500 for third. Baron Long, owner of Plata Real, received $1000 in finishing fourth.

The time for the one mile and a furlong was 1:54 1-5, five and one-fifth seconds behind the track records.

An enormous crowd was present. In the mutuels, Justice F. paid $6.25, $3.40 and $4.40 for $2. The Seagram entry paid $3.20 and $4. Cotlogomor, imported French gelding, finished fifth.

BROKEN BOW, Neb., March 7.—After playing three extra periods, the exhausted Broken Bow reserves and Dry Valley hoopers despaired of breaking the tie to decide the county championship of the county. FAVORITES SURVIVE IN GOLF TOURNEY

By the Associated Press. MIAMI, Fla., March 7.—Eight teams of favorites survived the initial round of the international four-ball golf tournament which began on the Miami Biltmore course yesterday.

As a result of yesterday's elimination the following teams will meet today: Mackey and Hamilton vs. Arnold and Croushank; Sarzen and Kepthorn vs. Klein and Murray; Melhorn and Burke vs. Carnahan and Boyd; Hagen and Hutchinson vs. Brady and Walker.

Horemans Plays Hoppe in 18.2 Feature Today

Cochran, Who Has Averaged 73 for Two Games, One of Title Favorites.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, March 7.—Willie Hoppe, world's 18.2 billiard champion, has a chance tonight to go into a second-place tie with Edouard Horemans, Belgian star, in the championship tournament being held here. If Horemans wins he will take the lead with three victories and no defeats.

Welker Cochran, young Californian, and Jake Schaefer of Chicago, who are in a triple tie with the Belgian for first place, were not scheduled to play today, the drawing bringing together for the afternoon contest Felix Grange of France, who has defeated Hoppe, and Kinrey Matsuyama, the Japanese "lid-bit," who is definitely out of the running.

Cochran, who ran up an unfinished cluster of 299 in defeating Erich Hagenlacher of Germany, Saturday, is claimed by billiard critics to have the edge on the others who threaten to upset Hoppe's crown. These claims are largely based on the Pacific Coast entrant's average of 73 1-3 for two games, against Schaefer's 52 1-2 and Horemans' 53 1-3.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, March 7.—Manager Harris has made his first slash with the pruning knife at the Tampa training camp of the Washington Senators. He has released Jack Blair, first baseman, and Ben Shaw, catcher. Harris is still non-committal as to what pitchers he will keep on the club's roster. Four exhibition games face the Senators this week, with the Braves at St. Petersburg, Philadelphia Nationals at Bradenton and the New York Giants at Sarasota in two games, Friday and Saturday.

No Food for Holdouts.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, March 7.—The "food" cure is to be administered to holdouts at the Yankee training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla.

"If a player can sign his name at the bottom of a dinner check, he can also sign at the bottom of a contract," Miller Huggins explained in announcing that lunch would not be served to holdouts.

By the Associated Press. CLEVELAND, March 7.—Joe Shante, veteran pitcher, says the Cleveland Indians are out to show the world that the Tribe is not a one-man team. Taking up the role of prophet at the Lakeland (Fla.) training camp the star southpaw predicted that while the team will miss Tris Speaker in the center field, the Indians "will not finish worse than second."

He declared that the Indian pitching staff is showing up better than ever this year. In the batting department he retired the early showing of Burns, Fonseca, Jamieson and Summa.

Mayor Gives Cup For Dash Event In Indoor Meet

Miller Trophy to Be Awarded to 300-Yard Winner Saturday at Coliseum.

Approximately 400 athletes are expected to compete in the 13 events of the annual Western A. A. U. field and track carnival at the Coliseum next Saturday night, according to an estimate made by Robert L. Probst, secretary of the local district, who bases his prophecy upon the fact that more than 200 individual entries have already been received. Tentative assurance of the enrollment of several additional teams has also been received by district officials.

McKendree College of Lebanon, Ill., and Washington University of this city, have each pledged entries for teams of 12 or more contestants, while seven high schools of St. Louis and nearby towns have enrolled for the prep events. The early entry list includes four teams of women athletes and 15 teams of contestants in the various relay events.

Announcement was made today by Joseph Forshaw, president of the Western A. A. U., that Mayor Miller has donated a silver loving cup to be placed in competition as a three-time trophy in the 300-yard dash, an open handicap event of the annual carnival.

Cotlogomor paid $25.50 for a straight $2 ticket, while Light Carbine paid $37.20 to $2 to place.

It was the last work in a race for both Justice F. and Cotlogomor before the Coffroth Handicap next Sunday.

BLUE LAWS FAIL TO STOP GOLFERS

By the Associated Press. ALBANY, N. Y., March 7.—Protected by a court order granted at the request of Thomas Hitchcock of New York, winter residents and others played golf here yesterday despite Gov. John G. Richards' orders against the game. Four State Constables came to Albany to enforce the ancient blue laws, but they were shrewd with a temporary injunction.

After reporting to Gov. Richards by telephone the Constables announced they had been ordered by him to return to their regular station.

The links of the Palmetto Club and the Highland Park Club were crowded with golfers.

Woman Spectator Hurt When Bike Capsulizes Into Box Near Track.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, March 7.—The first serious accident in a six-day bicycle race over to involve a spectator here marked the inaugural of the forty-second international grind in Madison Square Garden.

Scarcely an hour after 15 teams of riders started at 9 o'clock last night, Emil Rohrbach of France was caught in a jam and, after smashing into another rider, catapulted and crashed into a box just off the track.

One of the pedals on the bike struck Mrs. Frank D. Walker of Detroit over the eye, inflicting a deep gash that required hospital treatment. Rohrbach was knocked unconscious and suffered cuts in his head and abdomen. He returned to the race early today, however, after his wounds had been treated. Mr. Walker, who occupied the box with his wife, was uninjured.

In a jam this morning the teams of Beckman and Fohl, Bello and Benvenuto, Horder and McBeth, Dinalo and Vanneck, Goossens and Vermeulen and MacNamara and Giorgetti stole a lap on the field.

KILLARNEYS AND MORGANS REACH FINAL OF MUNY SOCCER SERIES

PALERMOS AND CITY ROOFERS ARE DEFEATED

McGann Scores 3 Goals for Morgans in Winning Overtime Match—Juniors Play Well but Killarneys Win 3-1.

Sherman Park will be pitted against Fairground in the final series of the Municipal Soccer League elimination games when the Killarney Rose team opposes the Morgans. The first game of the title series will be played next Sunday afternoon. The Killarneys won the Sherman Park group championship and the Morgans are the Fairground survivors.

In the semifinal games yesterday the Morgans had the hardest sort of a job in overcoming the Palermos, 2 to 1. The Killarneys, stiff and slow from their hard game of Saturday, loafed in beating the City Roofers, 3 to 1. The latter club, champions of the Junior League, showed flashes of fine team work and made a very creditable showing against their more experienced rivals.

Were it not for the poor playing of Center Halfback Pusateri, the Palermos might have taken away a victory from the Morgans. About all the big fellow was good for was knocking down opposing players. As was expected, the Morgan halfback line proved the strongest unit on the field, defending well, covering in a business-like manner and assisting in the attack. The forwards, except for George McGann, were afflicted with a weakness in shooting which all but proved disastrous. McGann scored all three goals for the winners, getting two with his head and the other with his chest, proving that he has the goal-scoring instinct.

The Morgans scored twice in the first half and looked much the best but in the first nine minutes of the second period, Flavin and Halfback Bussafacki scoring, tying the score. Then the teams battled two overtime periods of 15 minutes each before settling the issue, McGann winning the game.

Although they were themselves not especially effective, the Killarneys at all times had the game well in hand against the Junior Champions. Jim McCarthy scored two goals and Bennett one, while Ahearn counted for the Roofers.

The lineups: Killarney City Roofers (3). Reidy, G. (1), Flavin, Plyn, Kelleher, F. B. F. Kauffman, Schenkel, F. B. F. McDevine, Kearns, B. Malone, Snyder, H. B. Walsh, McAffrey, H. B. O'Brien, Lee, H. B. Hallett, Henry, F. O'Meara, Ahearn, Bennett, F. E. McDonnell, McCarthy, F. B. Pauling, Cronin-Rice, F. Shaugnessy, Donahue, F. Goals scored—McCarthy (2), Bennett and Ahearn. Time of halves—20 minutes and two extra 15-minute periods. Referee—Miller and Wall.

Chilean Soccer Champions Probably Will Appear Here

Colo Colo Team, If Plans Are Completed, Would Meet Local Clubs Saturday and Sunday—Millers and Wellstons Win League Games.

Having viewed soccer in the mode of the Scotch, the Irish, the English, the Scandinavian, the Austrian, and the Czech-Slovak, St. Louis is about to be extended the privilege of witnessing still another brand—that of the South American. The Colo Colo champion team of Santiago, Chile, will probably appear in St. Louis next Saturday and Sunday in exhibition games.

This is not the only South American variety of the game that will be seen here this spring, for the National Club of Montevideo, Uruguay, Olympic champions, will be here on Saturday and Sunday, May 14 and 15.

Arrangements for the appearance of Colo Colo of Chile have not been concluded. The team is now in Mexico City, and its tour contemplates games in the United States, en route to Spain and other European countries. Meager adjectives indicate the Chilean champions are one of the strongest teams in the world.

Would Oppose Local Teams. If the Chileans come here next week-end, they will probably oppose the two leading local league clubs, the Ben Millers and the Wellstons. Each of the St. Louis teams will be strengthened as far as possible by the addition of outstanding players from each of the other clubs, the Raticans and the White Banners. This strengthening process would not be very extensive, for, on their showing of yesterday in their league matches, both the Wellstons and Millers disclosed few weaknesses.

Perhaps the most interesting phase of the double-header at Sportsman's Park was the apparent improvement of the White Banners. This club completely outplayed the Ben Millers in the first half, and led, 2 to 0. Forward Link, who had been a very prominent and influential factor in the first half, retired because of a sudden illness, and this necessitated so many shifts in the lineup that the team was disorganized in the second period. The Millers then went out and scored three goals, one of which was a penalty kick.

Benny Nash made his bow at inside left, after an absence of a full season. He displayed his usual cunning in half control, but he could not stand too much bumping and running as he retired after the first half. Tommy White, playing left fullback for the Millers in place of Frank Vaughn, was a very active and vigorous defender, but the real fullback of the day was Tom Erbe, whose kicking was about as accurate as anything that has been seen this season.

Hennessy Plays Cleverly. The Ben Miller wing halfbacks ran over the field as though they had never heard of such a thing as position play. True, the team won, which may seem to indicate that the boys played well. Such aimless wandering out of position always leaves opposing forwards unincumbered and a clever team always takes advantage.

Hennessy, the Millers' new inside forward, played a smashing, clever game at inside right in the first half and at inside left in the second.

John Prindable, a graduate from the Flamin team of Sherman Park, appeared at center forward for the Wellstons against the Raticans and scored a goal in the first half to contribute to the Wellstons' 4-1

MIAMI, Fla., March 7.—William Tilden, first ranking tennis star, defeated Manuel Alonso of Spain, Davis cup team and second ranking player, 5-2, 7-5, 6-4, 6-4 and 6-2, yesterday to win the South Florida singles championship. HOW THEY GROW HAIR ON THOSE THIN SPOTS

New method rejuvenates dormant hair roots

Proves 97% of falling hair and baldness largely unnecessary—new head of hair now in 90 days

MODERN scientific research has recently discovered many favored, old theories on hair growing. That new hair can actually be grown almost 70% of the time is the astonishing pronouncement today of numerous men of science.

Thoroughly new and revolutionary discoveries have been made. A method discovered which does what old-day science considered largely impossible. This method was tried out, during the last three years, in something over 200,000 cases, and records of results carefully kept. 70 times in 100, according to those records, results were successful.

Results guaranteed in writing. It is called the Van Ess Liquid Scalp Massage. You use it at home—a few quick rubs over the scalp night or morning—that is all. It is different from any other home method known. It is protected by U.S. patents. It does what no other method does or has ever done. That is, it massages tremendously active root-rejuvenating and germ-combating elements DIRECTLY TO THE ROOTS.

Prices Reduced For Boxing Show

New Scale to Be Used at Coliseum Thursday—Riley Meets Eckert.

In an effort to stimulate interest in the revival of professional boxing at the New Coliseum arena, Matchmaker Jack Tippetts announced last night that he has adopted a lower scale of ticket prices for Thursday night's show, reducing the price of upper balcony admissions from 75 cents to 50 cents and the lower balcony from $1.65 to $1.10. Put the Fuse's Foible.
Fuses are being burned at the Coliseum. If a fuse burns out, it is a circuit of which it is a part of business until a new fuse is inserted. Don't be content with a new fuse under circumstances. Find out why it burned out. If the trouble is remedied, you will burn a new fuse. Eventually this may be damaging.

Stopping Starter Rust.
The Bendix starter drive is protected from external dirt and water on most of the better cars, but this is not a guarantee that the threaded shaft will not rust. Condensation will produce rust in a part that is supposed to be protected. If the engine tends to overheat, the drive may rust when cooling and condensation follow. The remedy is a few drops of light oil on the threaded shaft.

Check Pump's Pressure.
Before accepting any free air from a garage or service station, it pays to note the pressure of the tank. If it is low, the attempt you make to pump up the tire will serve merely to deflate it. If the pressure in the tire is greater than that of the pump, it will work successfully against it. It often is the case that a motorist will not notice this until he has completely deflated a tire already low.

ROBBER WITH BULLET WOUND CAPTURED

Names Accomplice After Doctor Calls Police—Both, Negroes, Admit Crimes.

Suffering from a bullet wound in the right shoulder, Forest Akers, 38 years old, a Negro, of 317 Montrose avenue, yesterday applied at a physician's office for treatment, and, when arrested by police summoned by the physician, admitted he had been shot while breaking into a Standard Oil filling station at Twenty-second street and Washington boulevard Friday night. He named Edgar Miller, 18-year-old Negro, as his companion, and the latter was arrested and confessed. They escaped without loot when fired upon by City Detectives Chavel and Lauer. They also admitted breaking into a Standard Oil station at Twenty-second and Locust boulevard, stealing some change, a watch and a pencil. Both are former inmates of Booneville Reformatory.

Robbers Take $340 From Five Men in Store Holdup.

Two men with revolvers entered the store of Powell's Inc., clothing, 5895 Easton avenue, at 9:30 a. m. today and walked up to the desk at which Joseph Van Raalte, 5330 Pershing avenue, president of the firm, was preparing a bank deposit with money on the desk and in his pockets.

"Hands up!" was their greeting. They marched Van Raalte, three employees and a customer into a rear room, took $340 from Van Raalte's desk, $25 from Van Raalte's pockets and $15 from an employee, and then compelled all five to go into the basement.

The robbers ordered the victims to look at the floor, not at the robbers. "If you come out in less than 10 minutes, we'll kill you," the robbers said, in departing.

At 9:15, two men held up Jerome Sala in his saloon at 3762 Easton avenue, locked him in an ice box and took some change from a cash register. After being locked up for half an hour, Sala succeeded in smashing a glass and opening a door.

Man and Wife Held Up in Home.
Richard O'Donnell, 1296 Temple place, was robbed of $170 by a Negro in an alley near Nineteenth and Morgan streets, at 10:30 a. m. yesterday. O'Donnell's automobile had run out of gasoline, and the Negro, an attendant at a nearby service station, had filled the tank. The Negro then asked to be driven to the home of a friend, and on the way drew a revolver and held up O'Donnell.

Frank Tavian, held up by an armed man in his confectionery at 4254 Easton avenue, at 8:30 a. m. yesterday, was struck on the head and robbed of $8.

Three Negro boys, 11 and 12 years old, are under arrest, and have confessed 17 petty robberies and burglaries in the vicinity of Eighteenth street and Franklin avenue during the last two months.

INGROWN NAIL

Turns Right Out Itself

A few drops of "Outgro" in the crevice of the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail that it cannot penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.

"Outgro" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

Why are there so many charming women today?

NEVER before have there been so many charming women.

Wherever you go, you find them. Vivacious, happy, beautiful, delightfully dressed in the most exquisite taste.

Clear, pink-and-white complexion, luxurious, well-kept hair, gleaming teeth, trim athletic carriage—these are almost universal characteristics of American women of today.

Why?
At first thought it may sound absurd, but one of the most powerful teachers has been advertising.

Advertising has helped to teach us all that the real basis of beauty is health and cleanliness. We are the greatest users of soap and water in the world.

Advertising has taught us how to care for our teeth, our hair, our feet, our hands and our complexions.

Advertising has taught us how to dress—how to choose color and fabrics and becoming styles.

Advertising has taught us how to talk, how to entertain.

One reason why so many women are charming is because so many women are reading advertising. From advertising they are learning the secrets of great beauty specialists. They are getting health information of inestimable value. They are learning the secrets of becoming dress from the famous designers of Paris and New York.

Advertising is one of the biggest reasons why so many women are so charming

A THREE DAYS COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat trouble. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.

138TH INFANTRY APPROVED
BY GOVERNMENT INSPECTOR

The 138th Infantry, St. Louis National Guard Regiment, satisfactorily passed the annual Federal inspection for the first time in four years last Friday, when 850 officers and enlisted men were reviewed by Capt. Allan Johnson, regular army inspector, at the Armory, Grand boulevard and Market street.

Capt. Johnson gave eight companies the coveted "very satisfactory" rating. Eight others were rated satisfactory and one was found unsatisfactory. The results are regarded as excellent in view of the fact that eight companies were declared unsatisfactory at the last annual inspection. Capt. Johnson congratulated Col. Stephen E. Lowe, commander, and the officers of the regiment on the showing before departing for his headquarters at Waterloo, Ia., yesterday.

The 138th regiment was placed on probation in 1923 because of lack of personnel. The probation order was continued until the last annual encampment at Nevada, Mo., the first time the regiment appeared at camp with a full complement since the World War. Col. Lowe, who began his military career as a member of the old First Regiment, took command of the 138th about a year ago and has been successful in reawakening interest generally in the National Guard here.

Now Science brings MAGIC to laundry-time

THIS message is for those women who live for something beside housework... yet who know it takes money to buy new clothes.

The amazing Meadows Bakelite impeller, when matched in trial against a metal impeller of former popularity, proved to those who witnessed the test under oath two vital facts:

First, that the Bakelite impeller not only washes clothes cleaner in less time, but with about one fourth the wear!

Now it is possible not only to be through with the week's wash quicker than ever... but assured that clothes will be treated as gently as if you'd washed each piece hand.

Results count! When you've done a week's wash with the Meadows and have smiled with satisfaction at the sheer, downy freshness... the life of newness that remains in your linens, for instance... you may be tempted to wonder how it is done.

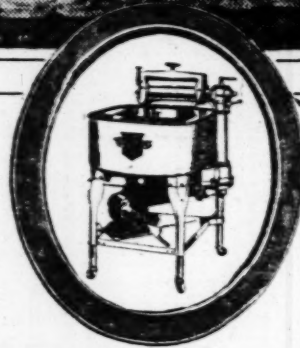

It's easy to answer your own questions.

Arrange with your dealer without delay to see the new Meadows. See what science has brought to the laundry.

You pay no more for these Meadows features... the biggest washing capacity on record... the magic Bakelite impeller... speedier results, accomplished with less wear on clothes.

It's worth while calling your dealer. You'll get more for the money you spend if you first see this washer in action.

Reducing and Tuberculosis

Widespread Craze for the "Boyish Figure" Brings Warning From Scientist as to Dangers of Some Reduction Methods.

Control Your Weight!

This is the fourth of a series of articles on "Control Your Weight," written by members of the Adult Weight Conference, called by officers of the American Medical Association. The papers are prepared with the editorial cooperation of the American Medical Association. Next Monday Dr. Harlow Brooks, professor of clinical medicine, New York University, will discuss "The Price of a Boyish Form."

By DR. JAMES ALEXANDER MILLER.
Former President, National Tuberculosis Association.

THE old adage "a lean horse for a long race" does not apply to coils of the human species. Certainly it does not apply to them as regards their susceptibility to tuberculosis.

Tuberculosis is principally a disease of childhood, adolescence and young adult life. It is an insidious disease, developing slowly in the body. Most of us have been infected with the germ at one time or another, though comparatively few of us really develop the disease. That we do not do so is largely because of the resistance that our bodies are able to offer.

This resistance depends, in general, on keeping ourselves in good health. If we do so, we can quickly overcome the infection, but let some other disease sap our vitality, or poverty, with its overcrowded living conditions, or overwork, or bad habits, or, above all, prolonged undernourishment enter the drama of our lives! Then the stage is all set for the germ to get the upper hand, and we fall victims to the disease.

Proper Nourishment Essential.
The tubercle bacillus cannot grow well in a healthy body, but thrives in one which is below par. The state of nutrition, as revealed by body weight, is the best single guide to whether you are up to par or not. That is why it is so important to keep yourself properly nourished if you want to avoid this disease.

Undernourishment, or malnutrition, is most frequently seen in children and young people. The reasons for undernourishment are many; one of them, especially among young girls, is the present craze for reducing. Tuberculosis is one of the dangers they face who risk their health for a fad.

It is not always easy to determine whether underweight in young persons is a cause or a result of tuberculosis, for one of the gradual effects of the infection is often a loss of standard of nutrition. For practical purposes, however, this uncertainty does not matter much, for such early manifestations of the disease are easily controlled by correct treatment. This treatment consists in saving energy by rest and building up nutrition by proper feeding, exactly the same treatment that is used for undernourished cases to prevent them from developing the disease. The methods of prevention and of treatment are, therefore, much the same, and the loss or gain in weight is the best guide to their success or failure.

Weight and Tuberculosis.
This relationship between weight and tuberculosis in young persons is generally recognized by physicians because of their clinical observations, but also is indicated by studies based on statistics showing more than general impressions.

For example, economic and social studies have long ago shown that tuberculosis is a disease of poverty. The well-to-do. Not only does it thus vary among the different classes of any community, it varies directly with the general prosperity as it affects the standard of living. The remarkable lessening of the extent of tuberculosis in this and other countries seems to be definitely related to the decrease of poverty and the rise in the standards of living. Better food, and therefore better nutrition, has been the most important cause of this change.

How closely the death rate from tuberculosis is associated with body weight is indicated by a study of life insurance mortality tables, based on the histories of over 700,000 men. These statistics show that the death rate from pulmonary tuberculosis is much less among overweight than among underweight. For every overweight man of this group who passed away from this disease, a little over nine of the underweights died.

Whenever famine has stalked through a community, or even when crop failures or economic depression have deprived the people of sufficient food for a considerable length of time, there tuberculosis has increased. One of the most striking examples of this fact was the experience of various European nations during the great war.

All of these European countries

Will they pay for this thoughtless reducing?

were under the same stress of war, were suffering from nerve strain, anxiety, overwork and overexertion, but it was only when the food problem was strikingly different that the contrast between the effect as far as tuberculosis was concerned was evident. This has given us a striking demonstration of the relationship between undernourishment and tuberculosis.

"To what practical use shall we put this knowledge?"
Briefly, this: Keep children and young people well nourished and up to weight and there will be far less tuberculosis. This places a great responsibility upon parents. Young people are thoughtful of health; they care little about how much they weigh—unless they think they weigh too much for modern ideals of beauty; then their one idea is to reduce. Intelligent and conscientious parents must think and act for them.

If your youngster is below weight he should have regular medical supervision. Regular periodic examinations by the doctor will reveal if there is any physical cause for his underweight or latent disease. To start the right corrective treatment at the very beginning will bring remarkable results, whether your child has actual disease or not. Cure and prevention stand very closely together at this age and are very important. A mother's easy-going assumption that all is well because "I was always thin at that age" often proves a much regretted mistake. Parents have become well educated in the importance of the care and feeding of infants, but too often the older child is allowed to grow up without medical supervision except when he is actually sick.

All young people would benefit by regular medical examinations, whether ill or not, and in the case of those who are underweight it is absolutely necessary. During adolescence it is perhaps particularly important, for many of the cases of insidious tuberculosis which first show their signs at this age. The results that proper care will accomplish at this time are very striking. The response to regulation of diet, of exercise and of habits in general is usually rapid and most gratifying to both parent and physician. Too often, however, the physician does not have the chance to help because he is not consulted.

During the last 20 years we have been fighting tuberculosis on a far-flung battle line. The results have been astonishing. The amount of the disease has actually been cut in half. We ascribe a good deal of this splendid result to the better care of infants and young children, which gives them a better start in life, and enables them successfully to resist the infections of later years. If this same care could be more generally given to older children and young adults it is probable that much of the tuberculosis that still remains could be wiped out from the next generation.

Tuberculosis is usually a very insidious disease. A persistent malnutrition is one of the most frequent indications of it in young persons, and when not actually present in such undernourished children it is certainly very likely to develop sooner or later. Tuberculosis of this type can almost certainly be prevented or cured.

Let us watch and care for the underweights among our young people.

Nervous Twitchings in Children

By Chas. A. L. Reed, M.D., Former President of the American Medical Association.

DO your children have twitchings and jerking in the midst of their ordinary movements or even when sleeping?
If so, they probably have chorea. Chorea is not a disease itself, but is a symptom of some underlying trouble.

Its popular name is St. Vitus Dance, so called because at St. Vitus' Chapel, on the Rhine, it is said, many miraculous cures used to take place of habitual jumpings and twitchings.

The signs of chorea are restlessness and fidgets, also crying spells, night terrors, pains and indigestion, followed by the onset of habitual, jerky, irregular movements of the hand or the face. Movements may be so severe as to make the patient unable to get about, to feed himself or to dress, sometimes even to talk. Patients are generally children between 5 and 15, and three out of every four are girls. It seems to be found most often in wet, low-lying countries.

There are several reasons why symptoms of this kind should be treated with great respect and taken to a doctor as soon as possible. The first is that chorea is very likely to be a sign of underlying rheumatism, which it is possible to cure if taken in time, but which if neglected may lead to the lifelong crippling of arthritis or to chronic rheumatic heart, which may be a permanent disablement or a cause of early death. A second possibility is that the chorea is really a habit, which may be the forerunner of severe nervous trouble or insanity. The muscular jumps nearly always go with a general irritability or a marked wilfulness, and sometimes with a complete change in the character of the child. These all form part of the same disease. The memory is apt to become feeble and the powers of concentration and study are lost.

Acute chorea lasts from eight to 10 weeks, but some attacks may persist for months, especially a mild variety which is particularly noticeable under excitement and occurs in nervous children. The attack usually recurs.

Needless to say the very worst thing for a child with habit spasms of any kind is to treat it harshly or punish it. This will only enormously aggravate the nervous weakness.

The kind of child who is exceptionally liable is the abnormally bright, active-minded girl belonging to a family who have shown themselves liable to nervous or mental disorders. These children should be watched very carefully between eight and 15 and not allowed to overtax their mental powers.

The attack so often dates from the weary and stress of school examinations that competition for prizes or places should be rigidly restricted.

Patients generally recover, but only if they are treated properly and in accordance with general hygiene. They should be kept quiet and their waywardness treated gently but firmly, by strong minded people who will stand no nonsense. It is much better to send them to the hospital. Chorea is one of the ills that may be caused by bad teeth, poisonous tonsils and sinuses and neglected adenoids, also by faulty feeding and too little exercise and sunlight.

Milton Work Bridge Points

By HELEN ROWL

ONE of the features of the game as originally received, is the provision that becomes "vulnerable" when both sides are vulnerable. In this country, however, the feature, and it also is a considerable proportion of the players, although there are some especially in France, who like it and who no longer are in the new Code of Laws.

In the new Code of Laws, the Knickerbocker Club (New York) has drafted the "Danger Zone," provided when a vulnerable side makes the contract and overruns the penalties for undertricks, the slam bonus is increased by one-half. This feature does not alter the nature of the game, but it does make it more exciting. Like all new games, it may or may not take the public.

These vulnerable increases, on top of the big bonus and regulation doubles and redoubles, are somewhat reminiscent of the game of bridge, which is a bidding game of a side with a partner, and make time hidden and conservative.

For a side that has won a "flag-flying" obviously is a hazardous experiment. The bidder is apt to disregard warnings that a position is "Danger Zone" and after the result catastrophes unheard of in bridge.

Auction Bridge are daily happenings in Contract.

W. MILLER
SENTENCED TO 18 MONTHS,
FINED $5000

Judge Knox Regrets Defendant Did Not Take Stand at $7,000,000 Conspiracy Trial.

TO FILE AN APPEAL

Former Alien Property Custodian Was Convicted by Jury That Disagreed on Daugherty.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, today was sentenced to 18 months in Federal prison and pay a fine of $5000 by Federal Judge Knox.

Miller was convicted last Friday of conspiracy to defraud the United States of his honest and best services in connection with the allowance of claims for $7,000,000. Harry M. Daugherty, former Attorney-General, was indicted with Miller, but the jury disagreed on Daugherty and the indictment against him was dropped. Miller, who has been free on $5000 bail, was allowed to remain liberty under bond, until appeal papers in his case are ready.

A motion for a new trial and a motion for a deferred judgment were both denied by Judge Knox after an appeal by Aaron Sapiro, attorney of Chicago, and San Francisco.

Deeds Mercy for His "Buddy." Sapiro, who fought in the army in World War I, was shown "My Buddy," a picture of a man in a military uniform, who was shown "My Buddy," a picture of a man in a military uniform, who was shown "My Buddy," a picture of a man in a military uniform.

"I am not fighting Mr. Miller, as honor. I am fighting for the underdog, as a matter of principle, the underdog I mean the poor-paid man in the Government employ. If he were to be found guilty of a crime against the Government he would not be shown mercy."

In sentencing Miller, Judge Knox said the Court would like to have spared the ordeal and personally would have been pleased if evidence had not been such as result in conviction.

"I hated to believe that men in responsible positions might be guilty of such crime as was charged the indictment," he continued, "but I must accept the verdict of a jury."

Regrets Miller Didn't Testify. "I regret that you did not take a stand and tell your story, and, recognizing fully your service to your country in time of war, I may add that good citizenship is often strained in times of peace. It is the duty of those in office, and peculiarly their duty, to be steadfast."

"I do not believe that the institution of a prison sentence upon Mr. Col. Miller, will add anything what you have suffered. But I was a duty to perform toward the Government, whose duty was far more humble than yours."

Immediately after sentence had been imposed Sapiro asked that the part of it relating to imprisonment be suspended. He said that he was responsible for Col. Miller having taken the stand.

Col. Miller wanted to take the stand and it was my judgment as attorney, imposed upon him, that kept him from it," said the lawyer.

Judge Knox denied the motion, however, commented that if the Appellate Court should find in record of the trial for conviction that the judgment of conviction was not proper, he would be most ready to avoid the crowds which were present attendance at the trials.

Miller was indicted with Daugherty, the late John T. King, Republican National Committee member from Connecticut, and W. Smith, Daugherty's ally in Washington in 1923. It was alleged they conspired to pass $7,000,000 proceeds of sale of impounded American shares seized during war as German-owned. Evidence was adduced to show that $441,000 of a "fee" of $441,000 paid to arrange for the allowance of the claims went to Miller's legal and brokerage accounts.
